CHRISTIAN CHURCH DEDICATION IS IMPRESSIVE

$65,000 Debt Wiped Out in Day Through Efforts of Rev. Cole and Workers

The Central Christian Church of Glendale advanced its work ten years in one day at yesterday's dedication services.

Rev. C. Cole, pastor of the church, made a statement to this effect this morning commenting upon the overwhelming generosity of the congregation.

Sunrise yesterday saw a debt of $65,000 upon the $125,000 church plant; sunset saw the same debt wiped out and a surplus on hand of over $6000 for the purchase of a pipe organ. Over $75,000 was raised yesterday during the all-day services.

"We put this over ourselves and didn't go out to the city for funds," asserted the Rev. Mr. Cole. "I don't think that we asked a single man who is not connected with our church for funds. This has been a big undertaking for a church with a membership of 400. None of the members are rich, either. We haven't a rich man in the congregation."

Pleased by Response

Confidence was felt by the Rev. Cole at all times that the church would wipe out its debt at the dedication service. He was somewhat surprised and tremendously pleased with the immediate response to the plea for funds.

The formal dedication took place at the morning service. Rev. George L. Snively of Lewistown, Ill., had the honor of being the official dedicant. His sermon was based upon "The Fundamentals of Our Faith."

The church was dedicated to the proposition that "God is the creator and father of all; that Jesus Christ is His only Son and the world's redeemer; that the Bible is the inspired word of God; that the soul of man is immortal."

Knight of Bath Hopes Plunge Is Done by July 15

If you haven't had your annual bath yet, don't get fidgety. The Municipal Bath House may be open before the first of the month, according to Roy Biddlecom of 1008 Virginia Place, Glendale, Knight of the Bath.

Mr. Biddlecom stated recently that everything was ready for the grand opening—outside of plastering the interior of the bathhouse, laying the cement floor, finishing up the plunge and a few minor things like that.

"It will be one of the nicest plunges in the country," states Mr. Biddlecom.

For the benefit of those who commute from Los Angeles, the bathhouse will not close until 9 o'clock in the evening. For the benefit of local youngsters it will open at 10 o'clock in the morning.

HARRY GIRARD'S HIP FRACTURED

Slipped on Waxed Floor at Egan School Saturday, In Sisters' Hospital

Harry Girard, Glendale resident and prominent musician, is at the Sisters' hospital, Sunset boulevard, Los Angeles, suffering with a seriously fractured right hip, sustained Saturday morning when he slipped on the highly polished floor of his studio at the Egan school.

Reports from the hospital this morning stated that Mr. Girard was in intense pain and that the seriousness of his injury had not yet been determined by attending physicians. However, they are confident that he will be confined to the hospital for a period of six weeks.

Mr. Girard had just arrived at his studio and was preparing for his day's work, when he slipped on the waxed floor and his whole weight fell on his right hip.

In addition to studio and concert activities, Mr. Girard is organist at the Holy Family Catholic church and he was greatly missed at the Sunday services. His many friends here will be sorry, indeed, to hear of this misfortune.

Miss Buechler is to be attended by her sister, Miss Frances Buechler as maid of honor, and Mr. Keegan's brother, Thomas Keegan of Corona, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keegan of Long Beach, at a ceremony at 9:30 o'clock, Tuesday morning, July 4, 1922, at the Holy Family Catholic church. Rev. James S. O'Neill will be the officiant.

Independence Day Will Take Populace Away From Home

Independence Day, the immortal Fourth of July, will be celebrated by Glendale's each and every citizen. Thousands will go to the beaches, many more to the mountains, and to celebrations in other towns in the San Fernando valley. And some will prefer to stay at home and enjoy the holiday in their own quiet way.

The baseball game at Sunland between the Glendale Merchants and the Tujunga valley team, coincidental with the festivities there, will probably draw a large crowd of local fans and picnickers from here. The game is set for 12 noon.

At San Fernando a program of special interest to Glendale people will probably be attended by a large Glendale delegation. The program will include a speech by L. C. Brand of Glendale, presenting to the city of San Fernando the fountain, which he is donating adjoining the mission grounds.

Mr. Brand intends to fly from his home to San Fernando in one of his airplanes, in time to make his presentation speech shortly after the beginning of ceremonies at 11 a. m. The speech of acceptance is to be made by Mayor Cryer or Councilman Criswell, and a barbecue, music and other features will follow the dedication.

Rathenau's Slayer Acting Go-Between

BERLIN, July 3.—Correspondence made public here today by the government press department shows that Lieut. Guenther, who was arrested in connection with the assassination of Foreign Secretary Walter Rathenau, was in touch with the leading nationalist leaders and that he was acting as go-between for the monarchists in Berlin and Munich.

It was shown that close political and social relations existed between Guenther and such prominent nationalist as Gen. Ludendorff; Karl Helfferich, former vice-chancellor; Dr. von Jagow, and Count Westarp.

According to the government press department, Ludendorff sent Guenther a picture of the old imperial flag with the inscription: "This flag waved over heroes. German youth should become such."

L. E. Hollingsworth Honored at Reception

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth of 452 Riverdale drive entertained with an informal reception at their home Saturday night in honor of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Hollingsworth, who were recently married. There were thirty guests present. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth and Mrs. Mae Rosenberg enjoyed a motor trip to Pomona yesterday, and Miss Evelyn Hollingsworth was a visitor at Venice.

Convict Rich Slayer

PITTSBURG, July 2.—James J. Flannery, a wealthy young clubman, charged with first degree murder for the death of his wife, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter.

MAPS FOR WORLD WILL BE MADE IN GLENDALE

Former Private Secretary to Cecil Rhodes Will Establish Studio Here

By TED JOHNSON

"Made in Glendale" is to appear on an article which will be used throughout the world if J. T. Edwards who recently came here from San Francisco can find a suitable studio for the construction of geogical models which he intends to make.

Mr. Edwards, who is now living at 1233 Dorothy Drive, has led an interesting and adventurous life. He was private secretary to Cecil Rhodes during the latter's expedition through South Africa, and for this work there was made a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society in England, being at that time an English citizen.

Tells of Empire Builder

Twenty-four years ago, Mr. Edwards states he was in South Africa with his employer, who was then engaged in the amalgamation of Mashona and Matabella, bordering on the Transvaal, and which were formed into Rhodesia later. The life dream of Cecil Rhodes, according to Mr. Edwards, was to form a British owned strip from Cape Town to Cairo, and he even went so far as to have a flag made to fly on the locomotive of the first train that should cross the continent.

Cecil Rhodes was an empire builder," continues Mr. Edwards. "When he first went to Africa, he went there to die, his father giving the purse of the vessel money for funeral expenses, so certain was he that the explorer would die before reaching Cape Town. Instead, he recovered and began his expeditions and surveys."

Mr. Edwards tells of the De Beers diamond mines and the Whitwaters Rand goldfields where Mr. Rhodes made his fortune. Some of his experiences in Africa, he adds, seem almost unreal when he looks back upon them.

Enjoys Living Here

A great similarity is noticed by Mr. Edwards between Southern California, or rather that part about Glendale, and the Wineberg district in Cape Colony, California. In his opinion, must appeal to all men who have traveled over the world. No man, he states, can go back and enjoy living in England after he has lived in the open. And of all parts of California, the district immediately surrounding Glendale pleases him the most.

Mr. Edwards has recently completed a geographical model of the complete Hetch-Hetchy water project for the city engineer of San Francisco. He is also the maker of the geographical model of the Palos Verdes Estates now on display in Los Angeles. He had over six hundred models on display at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, and prepared practically all such exhibits from New York and Canada, notably the Canadian Pacific railroad.

Models Local Terrain

Here in Glendale, if he can find a suitable location for his work, Mr. Edwards intends to make his models, many of which will probably be sent all over the world, and display his models, he states, with "Made in Glendale" display at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, and prepared practically all such exhibits from New York and Canada, notably the Canadian Pacific railroad.

Way Maintenance Workers Withhold Strike

DETROIT, July 3.—If the railway labor board will vote to hold its wage cut order in abeyance until there can be a rehearing of the case, the strike order affecting 280,000 employees of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Workers will not be issued today, John Hall, secretary of the organization, declared. A strike is the last thing the executive committee will resort to. Several alternative plans were to be discussed by the committee before strike action was to be taken, members of the board declared as that body met today at 10:15.

Coal Parley Adjourns Without Agreement

WASHINGTON, July 3.—President Harding's national coal conference held another protracted session behind closed doors today, finally adjourning until Monday, July 10, without breaking the deadlock which developed on Sunday, or without progressing toward a settlement of the nation-wide coal strike. At the close of today's session Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Secretary of Labor Davis, the president's official representatives in the conference, declared "no agreement has been reached on any of the points involved in the difficulties between the operators and the bituminous miners."

Phoenix Klan Members Suffer From 'Amnesia'

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 3.—Investigation of the Ku Klux Klan in this district was hampered by what jurors termed "amnesia" on the part of witnesses, according to a report submitted today by the county grand jury, before recessing until fall. Klan members, the report said, failed to remember anything important about the organization except that they had "joined, paid ten dollars and resigned." Membership lists of the four Klan lodges in the district, totalling about 712, were unobtainable because they had been sent out of the state prior to the convening of the grand jury, witnesses testified.

President Leaves on Triumphant Trip Home

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, Uniontown, Pa., July 3.—Barring mishaps, President Harding today will realize that ambition which has been held at some time or other, by every American youth. He will drive into his old town, scene of his early struggles, as president of the United States. Thousands of his fellow Ohioans and Marion folk, many of whom he can call by their first names and to whom he is simply "W. G.," are gathering there today to do him honor. The president plans to make Marion this evening if it is possible to do it, although a stiff day's driving was in prospect when he left Uniontown early this morning. The almost incessant rain which has accompanied the presidential party since it left Washington, making motoring difficult as well as dangerous over the slippery roads, has given way to clearer weather. The route today led through Washington, Pa.; Wheeling, W. Va.; Cambridge, Zanesville and Columbus.

First Disorders in Strike Reported at Chicago

CHICAGO, July 3.—The strike of railway shopmen in protest against wage reductions and certain practices of the railroads entered its third day today with each side to the controversy making divergent claims. Leaders of the strikers contend that the walkout is almost 100 per cent. Representatives of the railroads declare that so far the walkout has caused them no trouble. First signs of disorder in the Chicago district came today when twenty men gathered in the yards of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and stoned coaches standing on the tracks. The crowd had vanished when the police arrived. Reports were received here that importation of strikebreakers at Perry, Iowa, caused an outbreak at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul shops there. Strikers drove the recruits into a cornfield where they dispersed and none had returned. Railway employees who strike against decisions of the United States railroad labor board were formally outlawed by the board in a resolution adopted today. The board recommended that new unions or associations of employees remaining at work or hereafter joining the service of the roads be formed to take the place of the striking workmen. Protection for all men remaining in the service of the roads or joining any new associations that may be formed, was promised insofar as it is in the power of the labor board to give it.

By International News Service Teased Wire

KANSAS CITY GRAIN ELEVATOR WORKERS STRIKE
KANSAS CITY, July 3.—Employees of eleven grain elevators in this city, amounting 225 men, went out on strike today. They had been refused a wage increase and demands for a seniority rule.

IRISH IRREGULARS MAKE CLAIMS OF VICTORIES
LONDON, July 3.—The Irish irregulars have issued a manifesto claiming military successes at Skibbereen, Patrick Wells, O'Dare, Ballingary and Croom, according to a dispatch received today by the Star from Cork.

REVISED CASUALTY LIST SHOWS 9 DEAD IN WRECK
WINSLOW JUNCTION, N. J., July 3.—A revised casualty list this afternoon put the number of dead in the wreck on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad's Midnight Flyer at nine. Some of the seventy-two injured are so badly hurt it is feared they will die. Six of the dead have been identified.

MOTHER OF MOVIE QUEEN DIES IN HOTEL FALL
ALBANY, N. Y., July 3.—Mrs. Marian Ostrich, 42, mother of Muriel Ostrich Brady, motion picture actress, ended her life here today by jumping or falling from the eighth story of the Wellington Hotel. Miss Brady occupied a room adjoining that of her mother. They were on their way to the Adirondacks.

HOLIDAYS WILL PUT RAILROADS TO TEST, CLAIM
SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—According to L. S. Gordon, secretary of federated shop workers on the Pacific coast, the ranks of the strikers remained firm today. The heavy holiday traffic was expected to put the railroad equipment to heavy test. Gordon said advances indicated a number of engines tied up and a large number of box cars on sidings. Railroad heads said traffic was proceeding as usual.

AMERICAN WOMAN IS SLAIN BY MEXICAN BANDITS
WASHINGTON, July 3.—Further evidence of the activity of Mexican bandits in the vicinity of Tampico reached the state department today in a dispatch from Consul Shaw announcing the killing of Mrs. Thomas Cheney, wife of an American citizen, at Chocoy, forty miles northwest of Tampico, on June 30. The bandit gang which attacked Mrs. Cheney was said to be under the command of the rebel leader, Manuel Larraga.

McCUMBER EXPLAINS HIS DEFEAT IN NO. DAKOTA
WASHINGTON, July 3.—Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota today made public a letter to his campaign manager, R. J. Hughes of Fargo, explaining his defeat in the recent republican primary by former Governor Lynn Frazier. McCumber said the two months which Hughes served as his manager was "too short a period to overcome the poison sowed broadcast for more than two years." He declared his own political lines were broken and that a "united organization" was arrayed against him.

8 BARRELS WHISKEY AND STILL SEIZED IN MONTROSE HOUSE
Eight barrels of whiskey containing about 65 per cent alcohol were hauled from Montrose to Glendale yesterday afternoon by the police. Two of them, a barrel containing about 25 gallons and a baby barrel containing about eight gallons, remain at the local police station today as evidence. A complete still, which had been in operation for some time, was raided and a large quantity of efficient apparatus was seized. No arrests were made because of the fact that the three men, who had been operating the outfit, learned that the premises were being watched and failed to return. However, a description of each one is available and arrests are expected later. The still was housed in one room bungalow on Montrose avenue about two miles from the center of the village. A garage adjoined the rear wall. This garage contained the still. It was considered especially safe, since it contained no windows and even the light was carefully shaded so that no light might shine through cracks of the building at night. To keep visitors away an automatic twenty-two rifle stood beside the door. This was confiscated, also. "They were surely in the wholesale business," declared Chief Fraser.

Miss Lulu Garton to Tell of Missionaries
Miss Lulu Garton, who served for five years as a missionary in India and who is now guest of her sister, Mrs. C. A. Cole, is to speak Thursday afternoon at the foreign missionary session of the women's organization at the First Methodist church. The church women are to meet at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning for the election of officers of the foreign missionary society. A luncheon will be served at noon and in the afternoon the foreign mission organization will meet at 1 o'clock and the home mission organization at 2:30 o'clock.

COUNCIL MEET TONIGHT
The opening of Stanley avenue is scheduled for consideration tonight by the city council. A special committee of property owners is expected to be in attendance.

WAR HERO'S TRIP WEST ADDS TO ADVENTURES

Leonard Jay Spikes Here From S. E. Convention With Lacy Hoge

Lacy Hoge of 431 West Colorado boulevard, Glendale, returned yesterday from San Francisco, where he attended the national convention of Disabled American Veterans of the World War as a delegate from the Los Angeles post. He was accompanied home on the Steamer Humbolt by Leonard Jay, a patient at Speedway hospital, Maywood, Ill., who was a delegate from that institution.

Messrs. Hoge and Jay became "buddies" at the hospital established at Whipple Barracks for those suffering from the effects of gas. Mr. Jay lost his left leg from shrapnel wounds received at Chateau Thierry, but he is a mighty husky hero considering his wounds.

Rescued from Desert

Indeed, it takes some constitution to stand a motor trip from Chicago to Daggett, Calif., where the veterans' car burned up, eight miles out on the desert. They were rescued by a wealthy young rancher who was driving through in a big roadster. He, too, had served in the navy and it was "40-8" to the nearest railroad station with five people and their baggage aboard the racy auto.

"I never knew how fast a bullet traveled," said Mr. Jay, "until I went 65 miles an hour over the desert with that mob. And to think I had to coax the doctor to let me make the trip!"

Action Is Taken

Other than the election of officers and a grand, good time afforded the heroes by San Francisco, the veterans condemned the hospitals at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio; passed resolutions against the veterans' bureau taking men out of training without providing jobs or pay, without giving due notice, and in a speech from the floor, Colonel Forbes promised that their request would be observed. He also gave them assurance that a year's credit would be given them in civil service work, making it more easy for them to obtain employment.

Altogether, it was a great meeting and Mr. Hoge feels it was well worth attending, although the convention was quite strenuous for disabled men.

Some Fat Trout! H. S. Burn Says Weight 19-1-2 Lbs.

Here's another one! "One fellow up at Big Bear Lake caught a trout that weighed 19 1/2 pounds," says H. S. Burn of Doner, Hemenway & Bean, local realtors, at 110 South Brand.

Mr. Burn and F. B. Hupp recently returned from an outing in the Big Bear district. "No, we didn't catch any fish ourselves," states Mr. Burn, "in fact, we didn't fish at all; just rested and had a good time. But the trout that that fellow caught weighed 19 1/2 pounds."

The Rim of the World road is in excellent condition, says Mr. Burn, and is, in his opinion, the best route to the lake.

REV. CALDERWOOD TALKS BY RADIO

Teachings of Jesus Furnish Topic for Broadcasted Vesper Service

"The teachings of Jesus have been ignored during all these centuries by a large percentage of those who have professed to follow him!"

This startling accusation was made at the vesper hour last night by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the Glendale Congregational church, who had the honor of speaking from the Barker Bros. broadcast station in Los Angeles to thousands of radio enthusiasts throughout southern California.

"People have called Jesus their Master but they have allowed Him to master only a small part of their thinking," continued Rev. Calderwood. "When people discover that the teachings of Jesus would involve a radical change in their mental processes or a change to a new method of living, they pass by that teaching hurriedly or say that they fail to understand it."

Teaching Neglected

"The responsibility for some of this carelessness and infidelity rests upon the shoulders of our religious life. The theologians and many of the so-called scholars of Christianity have neglected the teaching of Jesus. Among the older theological books one can scarcely find a fearless exposition of Jesus' teachings."

"Where the teachings of Jesus would mean a change of the existing order many Christians have refused to follow Him and make or even advocate the change. The existing order has been held by many to be more sacred than the truth of Jesus. It is not thus that the Kingdom of God will be established, for the Kingdom of God means a new and better order."

His Words Forgotten

"The comforting teachings of Jesus were not neglected by people of the past, but those that would involve a radical change in human relationships have been neglected."

The church has been debating for nineteen centuries the person or our Lord, the manner of his birth and His truth in the trinity, but during that time his words have been forgotten. Is it not just as necessary for men's salvation that they believe Jesus as to believe in Jesus?"

Ruth Jacobi Weds Dr. Harry Coe Here

Miss Ruth Jacobi of North Dakota and Dr. Harry Coe of San Francisco were married at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, July 1, 1922, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. S. Henry, 1216 North Winchester avenue. The Rev. W. E. Edmonds officiated at the single ring ceremony. Mrs. Coe recently graduated from the nursing department at Stanford University. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. Dr. and Mrs. Coe will make their home in the northern part of the state.

No Paper Fourth Of July; All of Us Will Celebrate!

Sure, and we're going to celebrate the Fourth of July with the rest of the folks.

So there will be no paper, tomorrow, Tuesday. Each and every employee of The News is going to have a day off, although some of them would like to take a week.

Unquestionably there will be but few people home to read the paper anyway.

And here's hoping you don't get hurt. Otherwise we will have to report the accident in Wednesday's paper which will be brim full of two days' doings.

Truck Driver Hurt In Sunland Sunday

Emil Kiefer of the firm of Pullman, Kiefer & Eyerick, reports a rather serious accident in Sunland Saturday, when Tom Seymour of Los Angeles fell from a Crescent Creamery truck, and was so severely injured that he was taken to the Research Hospital for treatment. He was later removed to the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles. He will recover. Mr. Kiefer took the man to Los Angeles in his firm's ambulance.

Meeting Is Postponed

Mrs. M. S. Buckman, secretary of the Foothill Improvement association, announced this morning that the meeting of the organization scheduled for this week, has been postponed until Tuesday evening, July 11. The meeting will be held at the Central avenue school and the wiring will be addressed by special speakers.

No Firecrackers, Boys

The shooting of firecrackers in the City of Glendale is illegal. Attention is called to this fact this morning by Judge P. H. Lowe and Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of police.

Buck With Music Co.

Friends of Sabin Buck will be pleased to know that after today he will be associated with the Salma-cia brothers' Glendale Music company, 109 North Brand boulevard.

MILLION REQUIRED TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL PLANT

Comparative Costs of Buildings Revealed for Handling 3000 Students

By ART SHERBORNE

FOOTBALL: High School plant worth approximately $500,000. Cash or terms. No reasonable offer rejected. Fully equipped with class rooms, corridors, staircases, offices, windows, walls, floors and ceilings. Guaranteed to be the best high school plant in the San Fernando Valley. Would have been just the thing for the children of King Solomon. Details from Irving Olney, business agent of Glendale Union High school.

The Board of Trustees met Saturday night and went on record as being in favor of selling the present plant of Glendale Union High school, which serves Eagle Rock, La Crescenta, Tujunga and vicinity. A new plant is being built.

A mass meeting will be held in the high school auditorium Friday night, July 14, for the purpose of explaining the proposition to the citizens of Glendale.

Name Appraisers

Seven real estate men today are being invited to appraise the value of the property. Subject to their individual acceptance of the invitation, members of this board will get together at once. Those honored are: James A. Endicott, E. P. Hayward, H. V. Henry, W. B. Kelly, C. B. Guthrie, Arthur Campbell and John R. Green.

To appraise the value of the buildings a separate committee has been appointed, consisting of Roy L. Kent, H. E. Rommel and W. G. Boyd.

This action was taken by the high school board following considerable discussion on ways and means to make a $500,000 bond issue cover the expense of erecting a $1,000,000 high school (Continued on Page 10)

Elder J. E. Fulton Is Advanced by Church to Washington Post

Elder J. E. Fulton, president of the Seventh Day Adventist church left Glendale Sunday for Washington, D. C., where he will take the vice presidency of general conference of North America. His work here was such as to recommend him for the high post, following twenty-eight years' executive work in the foreign field, most of which was in the Orient.

Elder J. L. McElhany, president of the Southern Conference with headquarters at Nashville, Tenn., has been asked to take the Pacific presidency of general conference, but as yet his decision has not been received by church officials here.

Mildred Love From Iowa Is Entertained

Miss Madeline Love of 220 West Elk avenue entertained very pleasantly Friday night in honor of her cousin, Miss Mildred Love of Iowa, who is her guest for the summer. The hours were devoted to music, games and informal dancing. Dainty light refreshments were served. Invited guests were Miss Mildred McKee, Miss Esther Besant, Miss Lilian Webster, Miss Murray Longley, Miss Gertrude Vaughn, Miss Marion Jones, and Miss Mildred Love.

Buy the Eagle Rock for a public park! That is the plea of several business men who have seen the for sale sign on this delightful rendezvous of hiking and picnic parties, lying close to Colorado boulevard, just east of Eagle Rock City on the road to Pasadena. It has been suggested before, but it is understood, but now that the owner desires to sell this unusual piece of southern California scenery, M. T. Hancock, proprietor of the Hancock Music company, is ardently advocating a park bond issue for the purpose of acquiring the bird rock.

Up to Civic Pride
Other business men have become interested and it is expected that the Chamber of Commerce will foster the move. There seems to be nothing objectionable about the idea, and it would be to this community what Bee rock is to Griffith park.

Another feature about the property, according to Mr. Hancock, is the natural amphitheatre lying directly back of the rock which should be beautified and improved for Sunrise Easter Services, community sings and other events.

Wonderful Acoustics
The acoustic properties of this rock-rimmed auditorium are wonderful, he declares, and being in the music business he should know. He pointed out the fact that Eagle Rock—that is the promontory—is known from coast to coast and has wonderful tales connected with its history which have been published from time to time. Many newcomers were pleased to learn of the legends presented in Saturday's edition of The News.

SULPHUR SOOTHES UGLY, ITCHING SKIN

The First Application Makes Skin Cool and Comfortable

If you are suffering from eczema or some other torturing, embarrassing skin trouble you may quickly be rid of it by using Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist.

This sulphur preparation, because of its germ destroying properties, seldom fails to quickly subdue itching, even of fiery eczema. The first application makes the skin cool and comfortable. Rash and blotches are healed right up. Rowles Mentho-Sulphur is applied like any pleasant cold cream and is perfectly harmless. You can obtain a small jar from any good druggist.—Advertisement.

EAGLE ROCK'S REALTY BOARD ENDORSES AMENDMENT ON STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE

Supports State Association's Campaign For Rehabilitation of Local Transportation Systems in State of California

The Eagle Rock Realty Board has unanimously passed a resolution supporting the street railway franchise amendment being offered by the California Real Estate Association. The resolution passed by the local board is as follows:

"Whereas, the California Real Estate Association has made a careful study of transportation conditions in California which disclosed the alarming fact that under present conditions it is hopeless to expect any extensions of electric car service in California cities and towns; and,

"Whereas, the survey disclosed that the only practical solution of the difficulty was an amendment to the state constitution authorizing the control and regulation of public utilities so as to give the franchise granting power into the hands of the railroad commission; and,

"Whereas, this step seems best calculated to secure more adequate and satisfactory regulation of public utilities and to secure to the people of California more satisfactory transportation service from the electric railway companies; and,

"Whereas, the real estate men with community development and subdivision projects have been unable to make progress because of the lack of transportation and their inability to offer that when they attempt to sell the properties."

What Board Seeks
To relieve this situation the California Real Estate Association proposes to give the railroad commission power to grant franchises to electric railways and motor vehicles operated for compensation. The association hopes that resettlement and unified franchises will be granted to the companies which will enable them to operate at a profit and make the extensions so necessary and so much desired by real estate men.

The association has received definite assurances from the railway companies that if this amendment goes through they will be able to make badly needed extensions of service in every community in California now served by an electric line, and to branch out to other communities which need lines or will need lines in the near future.

The Eagle Rock Realty Board is composed of practically all of the real estate men in the city, and its officers are J. B. Brown, president; H. E. Barnum, vice president, and C. W. Jones, secretary.

Eagle Rock Pastor Respects Film Folk; Declares Devil Is Negation of Good; Advises More Families for America!

Rev. E. Morgan Isaac, pastor of the First Congregational church of Eagle Rock, is conducting a questionnaire each Sunday evening. Last night he answered the following questions in part as follows:

"Do you think it possible for a young woman who is a 'movie star' to be true to her better self?"

"It is possible for a young woman to serve in any legitimate capacity and be true to her better self. The moving picture world is no worse than any other field of service. It is doing the movie people a great wrong to think of them as questionable characters. They have a right to our respect and good will, as much so as those serving as stenographers and clerks or any other legitimate business."

"Does the Bible teach that there is a personal devil?"

"The Bible has much to say about the devil. But what the Bible says of the devil, and what people have thought the devil is may be two very different things. The Bible says very definitely that God is in all. If it be true that God is in all, it must follow that the devil is not. God is Being, the devil is Not-Being. The devil is the conception that a negation is something, or the affirmation of a negation which may properly be called the root of all evil."

"Does God forgive sins?"

"The first thing a wrong committed is the individual who sins. If sorry, he desires to have the wrong righted if possible."

"If you were a young man contemplating matrimony and you had the choice of a stenographer or a saleslady, which would you choose?"

"Now, young fellow, look here! You are not marrying a position, but a woman. It is to be hoped she will not have to be a stenographer nor a saleslady after you take her to be your wife and the mother of your children. Make up your mind to be man enough to earn the living for your family or else give up the idea of matrimony entirely. It is time we were having some families in America wherein a woman may be a homemaker and rear her children without thinking of typewriters and department stores."

"If a man has lived a happy married life with his wife for ten years and then finds that she is becoming indifferent, what should he do?"

The first thing for that man to do is to have a good heart to heart talk with himself. There is no effect without a cause. Let him ask himself a few questions. For instance, is he the lover he once was? Does he give that wife the attention he did when he courted her? Is he gentle in speech and act? Does he seek to make her burdens light? The great difficulty with many married people may be found in the idea that prevails that married life must become a common matter-of-fact affair with no romance. You are making a sad mistake, fellow, and had better return to love's lane and walk again with your arm about the girl you said was the dream of your romantic heart, the one star in the lover's heaven."

Charles Storz, formerly connected with the Roberts & Echols Drug store in Glendale, has gone into business for himself at 732 East Colorado boulevard, Eagle Rock, which he has named "The Bright Spot." He has an up-to-date fountain, candy, cigars and serves a lunch and will also have The News on sale at his stand.

S. C. Yetter of the Pacific Coast Radio Corporation at 124 South Cedar avenue, Eagle Rock, expects to install in the company's display room a most powerful Western Electric radioophone with its own loud speaker being incorporated directly in the set. Mr. Yetter states that this is the same machine that was used in giving a novel street dance at Ontario last week where it is said people living ten blocks away could keep time to the music.

In three states, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New York, and in the District of Columbia, the white females outnumbered the white males in 1920.

LOCAL PLAYERS TO GIVE 'BELINDA'

Capable Cast Given Roles by Mrs. Elgie L. Fischer, Local Impresario

A community theatre organization of which any city might be proud, is the volunteer possession of Eagle Rock, and the forthcoming production of the organization, Monday and Tuesday evenings, July 24 and 25 in the Central school auditorium is being anticipated as the outstanding event of the vacation time.

"Belinda," A. A. Milne's three-act comedy is to be the offering, which is being coached by Mrs. Elgie Lowry Fischer. In addition to being a capable dramatic coach, Mrs. Fischer is unusually talented dramatically and Eagle Rock friends are to have the privilege and pleasure of seeing her in the leading role of Belinda.

Milton Berry, Jr., and Winston Squire are to share comedy honors in portraying the characters of Mr. Baxter and Mr. Debenish. Clarence Geigrich will be seen as John Tremayne and Mrs. Helen Geigrich will interpret the part of Delia, Belinda's daughter.

16 PIECES STEEL TAKEN FROM EYE

Doctor Uses Magnet to Save F. B. Magee's Optic After Accident

Sixteen pieces of steel, the size of which, if judged by the way they fell in his eye, were enough to build a steel skyscraper, according to F. B. Magee of the Eagle Rock garage at 222 East Colorado boulevard, lodged in his left optic.

During the course of his work in putting in some red hot rivets in an automobile, the sparks flew like we used to see them fly around the now almost extinct old-fashioned blacksmith shop, and a large portion of them seemed to have made a special effort to locate themselves in his eyes.

Dr. Ellison removed a number of the pieces, but others had become imbedded into the eyeball itself, and it necessitated the application of a powerful magnet to the hands of a trained expert to remove the balance without further injury.

According to Mr. Magee, when the electrical power was switched on to the magnet it instantly drew the sixteen pieces of steel from his eye as if by magic, and he is now wearing smoked glasses until the injury fully heals.

Mrs. Lela Leech to Head Vacation School

Mrs. Lela Leech, Occidental college alumna, is to serve as superintendent of the daily Vacation Bible school which opens Wednesday morning at the Presbyterian church. The two summer sessions of the school have 17 students enrolled each year and Mrs. Leech and the faculty for this summer are expected just as many if not more to be on hand Wednesday when the school opens at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Instructors will be Mrs. Leech, Mrs. T. T. Cresswell of the Junior High School, Miss Agnes Hamilton, kindergarten and music teacher; Miss Laura Donnell, craft work; and Miss Georgia Peck of Los Angeles, primary work. The school will be in session from 9 till 12 o'clock each morning, excepting Saturday.

Wm. Hyten Knows Homemaker's Haven

William Hyten, an old-time gold prospector, is one of the new residents of Eagle Rock, having just purchased a home at 224 West Adams street. Mr. Hyten has prospered over practically all the southwest and has some very valuable holdings in the vicinity of Death Valley.

The fact that a man like Mr. Hyten, who has lived all over this section of the country and knows it all like a book, makes his permanent home in Eagle Rock is a rather significant circumstance, and is additional proof that there is something out of the ordinary in Eagle Rock that attracts not only the newcomer, but the old timers as well.

BLIND GIRL WINS BIG SUCCESS AS STENOGRAPHER

She Types Out Letters for Nine Hospital Physicians Despite Handicap

SACRAMENTO, July 3.—"A heart to resolve, a head to contrive and a hand to execute."

In this old but familiar quotation might be summed up the extraordinary capabilities of Miss Matilda Allison, California's first blind stenographer.

Miss Allison is stenographer at the Napa State hospital, a position in which an intimate knowledge of medical terms is quite as important as fast and accurate typing.

Her routine day consists of taking clinical, pathological and bacteriological dictation from nine physicians. There are many sighted stenographers who probably would shy at such an assignment, you may observe. Then, how did a girl who is totally blind prepare herself for such exacting employment? Here is the story in brief:

When she was only seven years of age an accident which occurred at her home in Lincoln, Placer county, made Matilda Allison totally blind.

Even then, although only a child, she was possessed of an indomitable will which recognized no affliction too great to overcome. Determined to achieve independence and confident in her ability to do so, she entered the California School for the Deaf and Blind in Berkeley. Here she became accustomed to the new life which she must live. In 1909 she was graduated from the high school section of the institution as the valedictorian of her class. "But even then," she says, "I did not know how to make a living."

Becomes Phone Girl
The young blind girl took a position as a telephone operator and studied stenography in her spare time. Her friends offered sympathy but no encouragement. "How can a blind girl take shorthand and perform the many other duties of a stenographer?" they asked her.

But, in addition to having "a heart to resolve," Matilda Allison possessed a "head to contrive" and she forced her way past one difficulty after another, undaunted and steadfast in her determination to become a stenographer. And then, when she felt equipped to take the state civil service examination, the real struggle began. There was no clause in the law permitting a blind person to take the examination, and the civil service commissioners advised her to try some other type of work—but even laws can be changed, and at this juncture Miss Allison brought her "hand to execute" into play. After steadily besieging the doors of the commission for more than two years she finally convinced them of the practicability of a new classification of "blind" dictaphone operators, typists and stenographers.

Opens Way to Others
When the examination was over it was announced that Matilda Allison was the first on the eligible list.

"Only one who has struggled under some affliction can know how proud I was on that day," the blind girl said in commenting on her rating. "In securing a new civil service classification I opened the way for countless other blind girls, and it is for this which I am most thankful."

Miss Allison felt the most part takes all dictation directly on the typewriter. The dictaphone also is a great help, and there is a system of shorthand especially for the use of the blind. She is one of the fastest typists in the state service and receives the same salary as sighted stenographers in similar work.

In addition to her regular duties Miss Allison is assistant editor of the Inland Times, a tri-monthly paper issued by the Napa hospital. "I have not reached the height of my ambition yet," she will tell you. "Some day I am going to strike out for a job in the news rooms of a paper. I have always loved to write, and one of my chief aims is to become a newspaper woman."

In the evenings the blind girl visits the Veterans' home at Napa to teach and entertain the helpless inmates of that place. Her happy philosophy of life has been instilled in the hearts of many of the old veterans at the institution, and she is constantly finding some new source of entertainment for them. One of her most prized possessions is a watch—a special watch adapted to the use of the blind.

The timepiece has no crystal, and at each hour there is a small raised point by which the blind girl marks off the time of day. The watch was given her by the veterans as a token of their appreciation of her work.

During her summer vacations Miss Allison preaches the gospel that "Blindness is not an affliction, but an opportunity," to blind girls all over the state.

In lectures before clubs and civic organizations she always stresses the point that what the blind need is not charity, but practical education—training which will fit them for actual work.

"Dog-watch" is a corruption of "dodge-watch," and has no relation to dogs. In seafaring two short watches, one from 4 o'clock to 8 and the other from 6 to 8 in the evening, were introduced to dodge the routine or prevent the same men always keeping watch at the same time.

Generosity pays generous dividends.

'ORPHANS OF THE STORM,' AT T. D. & L. THEATRE TODAY

Expectation at High Pitch Regarding Blending of Melodrama and Tumultuous French Revolution in Film Superfeature

When David Wark Griffith presents a new picture to an American audience it is always an event in the film world. When it is a picture in which he has surpassed himself, as in his latest, in which he returns to a production of stupendous magnitude then double importance attaches to the event. In Mr. Griffith's newest and most pretentious film, "Orphans of the Storm," based on "The Two Orphans," the famous stage classic, has its opening in Glendale today at the T. D. & L. theatre and it is indicated that this United Artists release will have a record attendance throughout its run.

So much stir has been made in all the large centers where "Orphans of the Storm" has already appeared that opinion is divided whether it is due to the emotional quality of the famous drama upon which it is based; to the remarkable characterizations of the principal roles, or to the magnificence with which the story is presented.

Ralph Allan, manager of the theatre expects to demonstrate that the sweeping force of the production lies in the masterful blending of all these elements.

Entwines Two Stories
In "Orphans of the Storm," Mr. Griffith has taken the world's popular melodrama, "The Two Orphans," and entwined it with the fierce turbulence of the French Revolution. Thus the emotional plot has been raised to epic proportions without loss of the basic idea.

To express all this Mr. Griffith has caught the spirit of the great upturn in France and its other extreme, with the double persecution of the two innocent girl victims as the focus of all interest. While following their fortunes, the spectator cannot fail to glean many historical facts concerning that troublous period. Indeed, every detail is painstakingly accurate, following a research preparation of nine months.

Lillian Gish is the lovely Henriette Girard, heroine of the drama. Her role calls for light moods and sorrowful ones. Hers is the main suspense of the story, although opposite her plays her sister, Dorothy, in the pathetic role of the sister orphan, blind Louise.

"Marvelous Panorama"
Glittering courts, splendid dream-like fetes in silvered gardens, fountains of wine, cathedral doors and faraway spires, Corot-like forest vistas, squalid underground vaults, great public squares, maddened hordes dancing the Carmagnole in the lawless streets of Paris, silk mad grand-dames with monumental white wigs, barricade battles between hanging mobs and bayonet-bristling lines of infantry, frenzied dashes of cavalry through

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Tomorrow We Celebrate A Victory of Reverence Look at Los Angeles Satisfactory Printing

By Gil A. Cowan

TOMORROW we celebrate the Fourth of July. It is a grand and glorious day, this anniversary of the declaration of American independence.

In the good old days of kings (and kings still reign in some parts of the world) the provinces were their particular pets, also their best bets for revenue.

And so it was that the tea tax resulted in a revolution, if our history books are to be believed. It wasn't so much the levy on tea as it was the principle involved.

Now then, Mr. Young America, you are going to exult over a declaration of principles. The question arises, how hard have those principles hit you?

Personally, I believe that any man or woman who has served his government as a citizen, soldier, sailor, civilian employee, etc., has a good right to celebrate, but the disgruntled, unhappy, bolshevik bum ought to be blown up by his own firecrackers if he touches the match of liberty to them.

The days of long ago are to be lived again at the San Fernando mission tomorrow.

That announcement undoubtedly will attract many Glendale people to the celebration which marks the first event in restoring the retreat of the padres.

Aside from the local interest, all of the followers of John McGroarty will feel an ownership in the newly established park and be among those present to rejoice in the victory of reverence.

Los Angeles building record for the month of May was exceeded only by New York, Chicago, and Detroit. How the big burg of the coast will size up in the June figures remains to be seen, but—

When you folks from Philadelphia, where the Liberty Bell was rung first, the others who come from Cleveland, Washington, D. C., or even our own dear San Francisco; when you wake up some fine morning and find Los Angeles leading those eastern centers in the matter of population, do not blame The Evening News and the real estate men and the Chamber of Commerce and the others for not advising you to buy here and build here and share in the profits to be made by the most logically located suburban section of the metropolitan area.

From the Arroyo Seco on west to the Hollywood hills there is every opportunity for taking profit in that both the fixed and the movable plates are milled out of a solid aluminum composition casting. They are thus made absolutely rigid and cannot be beaten out of shape. There is no chance of short circuiting the condenser at some positions of the movable plates, as would occur if they were allowed to scrape against the fixed plates. The finest kind of machine work is required to produce such work, and this will be better understood when it is stated that the plates are only one-hundredth of an inch apart. Another advantage of this construction is that the capacity of the condenser is unchanging, and it can be used for precision work in a laboratory. It will stand considerable rough handling which it is liable to meet with in experimental work. The minimum to maximum capacity ratio is large, and the condenser is very compact for its maximum capacity value. The insulation resistance is

REQUIRED VALUES OF GRID CONDENSER CAPACITY AND GRID LEAK RESISTANCE

When a grid condenser and leak resistance are used in a vacuum tube detector circuit the sensitiveness of the arrangement depends, among other things, upon the condenser capacity and resistance of the leak.

A condenser introduces an effective resistance called "reactance" into an alternating current circuit which can be measured in ohms like an actual resistance. This reactance varies inversely as the condenser capacity and the frequency of the alternating or oscillatory current. That is, reactance increases with a decrease of either capacity or frequency and vice-versa. With a given frequency, therefore, the reactance of the condenser decreases with an increase of its capacity.

Now, there is an apparent resistance between the grid and filament within a vacuum tube. When the grid is higher in potential than the lowest potential point of the filament this resistance is infinite, but decreases and is a finite value whenever a grid current flows. Since it is desirable to have the reactance of the condenser lower than the apparent resistance between grid and filament, the condenser capacity must be made great enough to insure this condition for the frequencies dealt with. There is a condenser effect between the grid and filament within the tube, and the series grid condenser should have considerably greater capacity than the effective capacity between those electrodes. This is in order that the maximum possible potential variations may be applied to the grid to give as great plate current variations as possible, and as a result, loudest possible response in the head telephones. The grid condenser must not have too high capacity, however, or the signals will be decreased rather than increased. For the average short wave (for broadcast reception, for example) the condenser may have a capacity of between 0.0002 and 0.0004 microfarads. The best value is usually found by trial, but 0.00025 is a good value in many cases.

The grid leak resistance is usually connected directly across the grid condenser and should, in general, have a resistance value higher than reactance of the condenser. This is because the high frequency oscillations should be made to pass through the condenser without any short circuiting effect on the part of the leak to insure the application of as high potentials as possible to the grid. It should not be so high, however, that excessive potential may be built up on the grid by very strong signals or static or the tube operation. The value thus depends upon the grid condensers, and, for short wave work, varies between 500,000 and 4,000,000 ohms (between one-half and four megohms). The value also depends upon the arrangement of the circuits to some extent, so that here again it is best found by trial. Two megohms is a good average value for the average circuit.

A RUGGEDLY BUILT VARIABLE CONDENSER

The construction of the variable air condenser illustrated is radically different from the usual types in that both the fixed and the movable plates are milled out of a solid aluminum composition casting. They are thus made absolutely rigid and cannot be beaten out of shape. There is no chance of short circuiting the condenser at some positions of the movable plates, as would occur if they were allowed to scrape against the fixed plates. The finest kind of machine work is required to produce such work, and this will be better understood when it is stated that the plates are only one-hundredth of an inch apart. Another advantage of this construction is that the capacity of the condenser is unchanging, and it can be used for precision work in a laboratory. It will stand considerable rough handling which it is liable to meet with in experimental work. The minimum to maximum capacity ratio is large, and the condenser is very compact for its maximum capacity value. The insulation resistance is high and the effective resistance is low.

The movement of the rotary plates is controlled by the large knob. When the proper adjustment is found the rotary plates may be clamped in position by means of the smaller knob. The top of the condenser is a hard rubber disc plate, which has the 160 degrees scale very nicely engraved upon it. The pointer has a knife edge, so that an accurate setting of the plates may be made to a fraction of a degree if necessary. The rotary plates are counterbalanced, so that the condenser may be mounted in any position without fear of having an adjustment changing, when the hand is removed from the adjusting knob. The connection between the rotary plates and the binding post is made through a spring which entirely eliminates the frictional connection with its resistance variation.

The condenser is made in sizes having the following maximum capacities: .0006, .0012, .0022 and .0044 microfarads.

The improved waterfront of New York City, as measured around piers and shore line, is 272 miles long. This is more than twice the extreme length of Long Island.

SUPREME BEING'S REALITY ASSURED

Presbyterian Men's Bible Class Hears Interesting Sermon by Rev. Brooks

"Will God be ushered out of His universe?" was the inquiry made yesterday morning in the council chambers at the city hall by members of the Bible class of the Presbyterian church.

Prof. James H. Leuba of Bryn Mawr college declares that only 14 per cent of the psychologists, 18 per cent of the biologists, 19 per cent of the sociologists and 22 per cent of the historians in American colleges believe in the existence of a personal God and that 40 to 50 per cent of the young men leaving college do not believe that there is a God who hears and answers prayers. There are others who are assuring us that there are practically no atheists today, for all believe in God since we came to know that God is not separate from His universe.

"The God revealed in the Bible is a personal supreme being possessing intelligence and will, the creator, preserver and governor of the universe," asserted Rev. Keith L. Brooks, teacher of the class. "Those who have been carried away by evolutionary teaching are giving out what they call 'the immanence of God,' by which they mean that God is not distinct from the world but part of it. He is simply the force or energy which has developed the world through the natural processes of evolution. This can have no room for the Bible view of God and His plan of salvation. There is no excuse of the church to exist if there is no personal God to whom men are accountable. If this view becomes widely accepted, there will soon be no church. It will simply become a clubhouse.

"Man is a moral being; moral government is necessary. There must be a sense of accountability to a Supreme Being or there is nothing but disaster in view of religion.

"The result of this modern belief upon the prayer life is evident. If there is no personal God who hears and answers prayers, then prayer becomes simply a peaceful state of mind. This is not what the Bible teaches.

"God is personally interested in the affairs of men and God can be personally known. I call you back to the God of our mothers and fathers and to the God of the Bible. In Him alone there is hope. We can know Him through Jesus Christ, His Son."

Clothes Council Is Formed by Students

DETROIT—There's no powder or paint on the faces of girls in Central high school's house of Victory, a student government organization.

Because of faculty ban? Far from it. The girls themselves have voted it out. Banned hair there is and plenty of it.

"More hygienic than those awful buns the girls used to wear," says Mrs. Grace Jones, principal of the House of Victory. "You can't handle the modern girl by telling her what to do, much less what not to do," Mrs. Jones declares.

"We have long realized that at Central, and in consequence have developed student government. They tell themselves what to do and therefore do it."

Before Mrs. Jones half a hundred schoolgirl heads, many of them bobbed, were bent over lessons. "You won't find powder or paint here," declared Mrs. Jones. "As for bobbed hair, there is no objection to that. It is certainly more sanitary than buns."

"One of the girls came to school one day wearing knickers. The student government decided that her garb was inappropriate for school wear and so informed her. She did not wear the tabooed garment again."

An open forum is held by the house every Thursday, where discussions include such questions as gun chewing, dress and street car manners. The consensus of opinion is taken by house members as a guide. The house is governed independently by its own staff of officers—president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and a student council.

St. Joseph, Mo., is the fourth city in wholesale dry goods, fifth in candy and fifth in hardware—first per capita in each.

REV. STEPHENS TO PREACH AGAIN AT ST. MARK'S

Glendale Episcopalians Congratulated on 'Every Member Canvass'

Sunday, July 2, 1922, was a red letter day in the thirty years' history of the Episcopal church in Glendale. It was marked by a splendid sermon delivered by the Rev. Nassau S. Stephens, formerly of the diocese of Newark, N. J., who now resides at Herndon Beach. He accepted the invitation to preach again next Sunday and may be prevailed upon to remain here until a permanent rector is secured.

The following letter from Bishop Horsfall Johnson of the diocese of Los Angeles, was read:

"To the members of the congregation of St. Mark's, Glendale: 'I am writing this letter to congratulate you upon the splendid spirit which has been shown in your congregation during the incumbency of Dr. Cornell. Were it possible for him to remain on with you without a serious menace to himself, I would strive to secure his continuance in the work. That, however, is out of the question.

"I now learn that under Dr. Cornell's influence you have been stimulated to make a special effort to secure pledges which will enable the vestry to call a thorough first-class man to be the rector of St. Mark's.

"I want you to have in mind the fact that in the province of God your organization stands in Glendale for the traditions of the church to which you are attached. Everything depends upon the spirit of initiative and inspiration which the church as a body undertakes and carries out this work. Let this every member canvass' evoke from every baptized person a willingness to do what they can at this time for the advancement of the cause of Christ, and for the glory of the church."

Sees Great Possibilities

It is stated by Senior Warden C. H. Hamilton of 2121 Canada boulevard that there are more than 1200 people in Glendale who registered as Episcopalians during the recent church census. He believes they should be able this week to obtain pledges totalling $300 a month which are necessary for the vestry to proceed in the employment of a rector.

"There are great latent possibilities here," said Mr. Hamilton, "and the time is ripe that they should be brought forth."

CHANGE SCHOOL'S PROGRAM DAILY

Bible Study at Presbyterian Church to Be Made Highly Attractive

Every day a change in program is the interesting aim of the day vacation Bible school which opens at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at the First Presbyterian for daily sessions five days a week for four weeks. Miss Anita Fletcher, director of religious education in the local church, will be general superintendent of the school, which is open to any boy or girl in Glendale.

Miss Fletcher, who is a graduate of the Presbyterian training school in Chicago, is a specialist in religious education, and she is to be assisted by an able corps of assistants.

Mrs. G. H. Martin, who has had wide experience in kindergarten work and Sunday school teaching, is to be one of Miss Fletcher's most valuable faculty members.

Primary girls are to be in charge of Miss Agnes Tupper, a recent graduate of the Southern Branch of the University of California, where she specialized in children's work.

Miss Annabel McClellan, who is an alumna of Mills college, will be the teacher of the junior girls.

Junior boys' classes are to be in charge of D. L. Foster, who offers as qualifications experience in Y. M. C. A. work and study at the Bible Institute in Los Angeles.

A special feature of the school will be the music work in charge of Miss Elizabeth Mottern, who recently returned from a year of special training in New York City.

Work for the whole four weeks has been planned in detail by the faculty members and all is in readiness for registration on Wednesday, July 5.

Atlanta Cop Proves Cat Has Nine Lives

ATLANTA, Ga.—The belief that cats have nine lives has been given substance by Policemen Bowman and Newport, who were forced to put nine bullets into a cat in St. Augustine place before it would give up the ghost.

The call came to police headquarters that a mad cat was spreading terror in the neighborhood. Bowman and Newport answered.

"Every time I shot the cat he got up and I had to shoot him nine times before he finally died," Bowman said.

Bride Stolen From Wedding by Brother

VANCOUVER, Wash.—With ring, marriage license and sweetheart, Richard W. Field appeared before the Rev. A. D. Skaggs here. When Field later left the parsonage he still had the ring and the marriage license—and a black eye—but no bride.

The groom-to-be was in the very act of placing the ring on the finger of Miss Virginia Griffin when the latter's brother rushed into the room, shouting: "This marriage shall go no further!"

The brother ordered his sister's lover to "come outside." Field did so and received a wallop in the eye. Then the brother's friend appeared with an automobile, and the two men dragged the near-bride into the machine and sped away.

Field was left standing on the porch, holding a ring in one hand and a marriage license in the other, and it was only with one eye that he could follow the rapid disappearance of his sweetheart. He was unable to explain the brother's objection to the marriage, which the latter succeeded in preventing by a matter of a couple of seconds.

DR. FUNK TALKS OF 'LOST SHEEP'

Savior Seeks One That's Lost, Lutheran Congregation Told by Pastor

"The 'Lost Sheep' was the subject of the sermon yesterday morning at the Lutheran church. 'One lost sheep is the cause of more trouble than 99 sheep gathered safely in the fold,' declared Dr. H. C. Funk.

"In our time a young man procures a ring for the intended bride but in those days when a young man became engaged to a young lady, he earned ten pieces of silver, each piece bearing the image of a king. These were formed into a chain and placed around the woman's neck. If none of the pieces have been lost when the wedding day arrives, all goes well. If she should lose one of the pieces, the engagement is broken forever.

"Jesus, no doubt, had heard of a young woman who had been so unfortunate as to lose one silver piece and inquired: 'Will not such a woman light a candle and sweep the house, seeking diligently until she find it? And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and neighbors together saying, 'Rejoice with me for I have found the piece which I lost. Likewise I say unto you, there is joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth."

"The parable of the lost coin illustrates the intense interest of the Saviour in seeking to save that which is lost.

"I never give up any man for lost. I keep on hoping and praying and working for his salvation. When Jonah was swallowed by the great fish, they certainly thought that Jonah was surely lost but God heard his penitent prayer. Yes, I believe in infant salvation."

Dr. Funk referred to a magnificent diamond in the Tiffany exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago.

"The most ragged pauper on earth or the most degraded woman, the ignorant boy or girl," he concluded, "is worth more than ten thousand gems like that."

The Persian can repudiate his wife if she is bad tempered, extravagant, very thin, invalid, or blind.

PRESENT AVERAGE LIFE IS LONGER, SAYS DOCTOR

People In Methuselah's Day Died Comparatively Young, Physician Asserts

CHICAGO, July 3.—Ever since Methuselah died at the alleged age of 969, succeeding generations have gazed back and sighed softly that the good old days when most everyone lived to a ripe, hearty old age had gone forever. But they've all been kidding themselves.

These are the good old days, according to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York City, who is in Chicago at the homeopath's convention.

The Bible says Methuselah lived 969 years, dying with children nearly his age and far be it from Dr. Copeland to have any doubt of the fact, but he would like to correct the popular idea that the people of that age or any other age lived such a long average life as they do now. The Methuselah family must have been an exception.

They Died Young

"Go back three or four generations," said Dr. Copeland, "and people didn't live long. They used to go in the house in the fall as soon as it got cold. They nailed their windows shut and tucked rags around the windows and doors, sewed their undies on for the winter and did not take a bath until the ice went out of the river in the spring. No wonder they died young.

"Or go back fifty years in New York City. The average duration of life then was 42 years. It is now 53 years. But we are not progressing fast enough to suit the present generation."

Industrial hygiene, Dr. Copeland believes, will be one of the big factors in raising the present average span of life. He asserted that by right living and right thinking the average person should live to be 100 years old.

"The undimmed and natural force unabated," is the slogan, but industrial hygiene must be perfected before this can become an accepted fact.

There are now 3500 men and women in the United States past the century mark, Dr. Copeland said.

Wondering what the chances were of a newspaper man living a hundred years, a reporter strolled to another section of the big hotel and there learned something about the age question from a woman who was looking content to talk about it.

More Hair Bobbed

She was Dr. Myram A. Swift of Toledo, the oldest woman physician at the convention, who has practiced "medicine" forty-four years.

Dr. Swift, however, does not use crutches nor wheelchair. She wore a mesh frock of black, talked a good long— and her hair was bobbed.

"I believe in keeping up with the times," she said. "Especially a physician must do that. For there are minds to cure as well as bodies, and unless we can grasp the trend of our patients' minds we can't do them the most good. The small percentage of marriages she said is due to keeping up with the times. 'And Kansas is such a progressive state, you know,' she added.

"I would like to see more girls enter the profession. It's a great life."

Writers Protest Edict On Gorki In France

PARIS—France's literary world is preparing to tap militant typewriters as a protest against the refusal of the government to permit Maxim Gorki, leading Russian novelist, the right to travel in France for failing health. A petition signed by writers, artists and other public men has been presented to the authorities. Anatole France, Romain Rolland and Henri Barbusse were among those who seconded Gorki's first request.

French Consul Learns Great Game of Poker

PARIS.—American friends taught Gustave Douceuse, chancellor of the French consulate general at Mayence, in the occupied area, how to play poker. Yesterday he answered charges of embezzling 40,000 francs in passport charges never recorded in the books of the government.

"Poker did it," he told the gentlemen who arrested him.

Westfield Girl Gets Sunday School Medal

WESTFIELD, Mass.—Miss Alice Regan of King street in this city, received a silver medal recently for not missing a Sunday school session at the Second Congregational church for sixteen years.

The canvassback duck was known to the epicure long before it was described by the naturalists.

"Barking dogs never bite" had its origin in the statement that dogs in their wild state never bark, but howl, whine and growl. Barking is an acquired habit, and it was believed, was no indication of a savage temper.

It is estimated that more than two years is required for Gulf Stream water to travel from Florida to Norway.

Perfect School Record Held by Boston Man

BOSTON.—Nicholas Thompson, a sophomore at the College of Business Administration of Boston University, has a perfect school attendance for eight years. He has never been late or absent in 2,080 days. He was given a written guarantee of his record to avoid dispute. Thompson came to this city from Greece eight years ago.

GENIUS OF GOSPEL IN MISSIONARIES

Dr. C. M. Crist Takes Topic, 'Dimension of Christianity' for Sunday Sermon

A fine summer audience gathered Sunday morning at the First Methodist church to hear the sermon on the "Dimension of Christianity."

"Enthusiasm is the child of knowledge," asserted Dr. C. M. Crist. "Apathy, discontent, cynicism and unbelief are the logical results of ignorance. The best passions of the human soul grow out of knowledge. Therefore the ambition to know is a perfectly laudable one. No knowledge is too high or too holy for those made after the image of God.

"We have before us for consideration this morning the first dimension of the kingdom. Its breadth suggests to us primarily the fact that Christ's program includes all races. This is a fundamental conception.

"The Jews had Abraham as a progenitor and anyone not of the stock of Abraham was excluded from the Kingdom. Jesus Christ's teachings were revolutionary.

"It is this breadth of the kingdom that is the very genius of the Gospel in its missionary enterprise. There is no more fascinating story than that which has to do with the march of Christ down the centuries. The heathen world is all astride with commotion. The truth is finding its way into the darkened places of the earth. Conditions in China, Mexico, India and every mission field are only understood by those who recognize the heaven of the Gospel.

"The church of Christ is not afraid of the laboratory. Too long have Christians trembled at the so-called conflict between science and the Bible. What need the Christian care if the world took one way or another to bring about His own will in creation? The answer that will keep us from drifting is this: All truth is God's truth. The church today urges the aggressive study of all the sciences and philosophies."

SPRING MESSAGE HEARD BY POETS

We Present Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. Widdows' Effusion at Widdows' Party

Here's s'more "potry"! It was written by Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. Widdows of 1318 East Harvard street and is an echo from the Spring Poets' dinner of the Glendale Progressive club.

It is said that Mr. Widdows furnished the rhyming dictionary, the stationery and the typewriter.

SPRING'S MESSAGE Have you caught Spring's radio message? Broadcasted from Heaven's blue: Sung by the birds' chorus at sunset, Reflected in morning's dew?

Can there be one among us Who does not welcome the spirit of Spring? When the mountains and hills are calling, And the "flivver" is on the wing?

Have you "tuned in" and listened With an eagerness like that of Youth, To the message of Spring as it comes to you? Have you? Now tell the truth!

If you have, then your heart's really singing You are enjoying life as you go. Out here in this great western country With freedom from ice and from snow.

Let's spread the message of spring-time: Progressives, let's make it our aim To fight the wrongs that surround us And uphold Glendale's fair name.

To cheer the one who needs cheer- ing At the time when he's feeling most blue, This is the task that confronts us: 'Tis a big one—for me and for you.

ELECTRICAL FIRMS USE QUANTITIES OF MINERAL

Manufacturers Operate Own Mica Mines; Material In Great Demand

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Mica, that odd, heat-resisting, transparent mineral which did duty as windows in the heating stoves of other days, has now become so essential in the electrical industry that the big electrical manufacturers own and operate their own mica mines, according to officials of the Bureau of Mines.

Mica, they point out, includes a group of several minerals characterized by a perfect basal cleavage, by virtue of which they may be split into exceedingly thin plates. The minerals are of very common occurrence in all countries, constituting about 4 per cent of the igneous rocks of the world. The term "isings" is sometimes applied to glazing mica, but experts of the Bureau of Mines say this is incorrect, for true isinglass is a soluble combustible material made from the air bladders of certain fish.

Mistaken for Precious Metals

"Silvery flakes of white mica and yellow flakes of altered black mica are commonly found in rocks and are often mistaken for the precious metals," said one of the bureau experts. "Any observer," he continued, "may easily distinguish mica from gold or silver by testing with the blade of a sharp penknife. The mica will split off in thin, flexible flakes and pulverize to a powder, while gold or silver have no cleavage and are malleable. The mica found as scattered flakes in various types of rock is of no commercial value. Muscovite and phlogopite are the only varieties that are of importance commercially."

Mica possesses a combination of special qualities the chief of which are elasticity, toughness, flexibility, transparency, ability to withstand excessive heat and sudden changes in temperature, high dielectric strength, cleavability into thin films, and resistance to decomposition. No other substance possesses this combination of qualities, consequently no satisfactory substitutes for mica are known for the more important uses.

Valuable As Decorative

The brilliancy of the reflecting surfaces give mica special value for decorative purposes. Muscovite in commercial sizes occurs in many parts of the world. Mica is found in masses known as "books," varying in width and length from a few inches to several feet, and in thickness from a fraction of an inch to six inches or more. Rum, ruby or green shades of color are most in demand.

In a recent year Canada, the United States and India produced about 97 per cent of the world output of sheet mica. Of this amount India produces about 65 per cent and the United States 15 per cent. The output of India and of the United States is entirely muscovite, whereas the Canadian production is almost entirely phlogopite. The pre-war yearly world consumption of sheet mica was estimated at 3,500 short tons. Of this the United States consumed approximately 49 per cent.

In 1921 the mica producing states in order of production were as follows: North Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia, New Mexico, Georgia, South Dakota, California and Wisconsin. Its ability to withstand heat and its high electrical resistance has led to a wide application of sheet mica in the electrical industries.

Used to Interleave Segments

An important use of electrical mica is for interleaving between the copper segments of commutators. Thin films are used in vast numbers in condensers for magnetos and wireless apparatus. As sheets in greatly diversified shapes, or as washers and tubes, mica is used extensively as an insulator in dynamos and in various fittings or appliances, in fuse boxes, sockets, insulators, electric heaters, flatirons and telephones. As a heat-resisting transparent medium sheet mica has various uses. It was formerly widely employed for stove windows, but this use has declined to a considerable extent. Mica is also used in furnace sight-holes, heat screens, lamp chimneys, canopies and shades, particularly for gas mantles, also for military lanterns and in lantern slides.

'HOMESPUN VAMP' HAPPY PICTURE AT GLENDALE

'The Prodigal Judge' Feature for 4th of July; Comedy
Also on Bill

An unusual twist to the ordinary course of true love is found in "A Homespun Vamp," in which May McAvoy is appearing today at the Glendale Theatre.
The heroine marries the "right man" in the first reel!

Miss McAvoy has the role of a pathetic little rural drudge who shyly worships a distinguished young author who is spending a few weeks in her native village.
Circumstances bring about their marriage—which the man plans to have annulled as soon as possible.

So it is not a husband, but a husband's love, that the little heroine seeks throughout most of the picture. Yes, she wins, but just just it would not be fair to tell.
"West Is West" provides the comedy, while News and Topics complete the bill.

Good Holiday Bill
"The Prodigal Judge," Vitagraph's spectacular special production of the old south in 1835, which will be shown at the Glen-

HAYDEN FAMILY IS HERE

Dory Hayden and family of Long Beach are guests for over the Fourth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bacon, 900 South
Glendale avenue.

FIVE GENERATIONS BEATEN BY THIS NOTED FAMILY

A certain section of our country recently boasted of a family of five generations, all living and shown in the photo—six generations. From left to right they are Mrs. Elizabeth Rupp, great-grandmother, 82, of Shermanstown; Mrs. F. Mae Guidar, grandmother, who is holding Mrs. G. Royar, 3 months old; Mrs. Sarah Miller, great-great-grandmother, of Neffsville, Pa., age 104; Mrs. Ellie M. Zug, 64, of Lancaster, great grandmother; standing, Mrs. Hulda Royer, mother of Wilbur Royer of East Petersburg, Pa.

'ARK' LAUNCHED IN SO. GLENDALE

Jack Harrison at Helm of Second Hand Furniture
Business Venture

More variety than Noah's "two by two" menagerie offered is to be found at The Glendale Ark, where Jack Harrison, buyer, has arrayed all periods of new and second-hand furniture from the Garden of Eden style down.
Folks are still trying to guess
the answer of how long it took Noah to build his ark and why he picked on Mount Ararat as a landing place, and that's where
Mr. Harrison has it over Noah for he doesn't keep 'em guessing.
He says it took him twelve years to launch the good ship
"Glendale" and he cast his anchor in these parts because it's the most progressive city in Southern California. Formerly he was at Second and Figueroa streets in Los Angeles.

E. V. Jellison Has Question to Ask You

"Why not see California first and American second?"
That is the question being asked Glendale residents and visitors by the Gardner car agency
at 1006 South Brand boulevard, where they are located to cater to every motor want.
To carry out their suggestion
they offer anything from a well equipped automobile to an oil can.
Their long list of patrons indicates the brand of service the motor novice or old-time motorist will receive from E. V. Jellison and his assistants.

GUEST OF MRS. DENISON

Miss Bailey of Los Angeles was the Sunday guest at the home of Mrs. Oscar Denison, 326 Mira Loma street. Mrs. Denison is now able to be about after an attack of neuritis.

FERRYS GO TO YOSEMITE

Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Ferry and children, James, Katherine, Jack and Billy of 614 East Acacia avenue, are enjoying a ten-day outing at Yosemite valley.

S. C. HARRIS TO HOSPITAL

George C. Harris of 1268 South Mariposa street will leave tomorrow for Mayo Brothers' Hospital where he will undergo quite a serious operation.

Summer Good Time for Purchasing Home

Spring time is the time for poetry and falling in love, but there is no better time for buying the new home than summer, is the unanimous opinion of the managers of the W. H. Heitman, Charles B. Guthrie and Arthur Campbell real estate offices in Southern Glendale. Their ads appear on this page.

In their opinions there is but one thing better than living in California and that is to own a California home. Besides listing homes for sale they specialize in attractive home sites and they're always ready to welcome the old resident seeking a change, or the new arrival who wants to make Glendale his home.

Murphy's July Sale Of Furniture Now

New furniture for old homes or old furniture for new homes, or vice versa, the stock now on display at Murphy's furniture store, 1259 1/2-1261 South Brand boulevard, offers something interesting for seekers of bargains.

There are all sorts of the newest of the new for the new or remodeled home. Kitchen specialties occupy a prominent place in the big stock. Don't miss the July sale, says Mr. Murphy.

BURKES GO ON PICNIC

Mrs. Joe Burke and Miss Ethel Burke of 1242 South Maryland avenue, Miss Ellen Early of 517 East Palmer avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Burke and daughter Maurine, of 616 East Lomita avenue, enjoyed a picnic party at Santa Monica and Venice yesterday.

PROBES TRAIN WRECK

CAMDEN, N. J., July 3.—Prosecutor Woolverton of Camden county left at 10 o'clock this morning for Winslow Junction to begin an investigation of the Reading wreck. "I have been informed," he said, "that John De-walt, the towerman who threw the wrong switch is missing."

JAPAN APPROVES PACTS

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The Japanese privy council has now approved all the treaties of the Washington conference, the state department was officially advised today. The last two pacts to be approved were the mine power treaty affecting China and the Chinese customs treaty.

Miss Jeanne Lamar, France's champion boxer, stopped her male opponent in a three-round bout held in Reading, Pa., recently.

PASTOR ACTS LIKE BABE RUTH

Picnic Saturday Shows Rev.
V. Hunter Brink As Good
Baseball Player

A string of automobiles and trucks conveyed a large party of picnickers from the Central Avenue Methodist church at Central and Palmer avenues to Brookside park, Pasadena, Saturday, July 1.
Swimming and games were entered into with the usual vim by the young people.

Superintendent J. L. Brown did some very satisfactory work as umpire of the baseball game between the officers and teachers of the Sunday school. The score ran very high, the exact figures, however, are not being divulged.

The pastor, the Rev. V. Hunter Brink, carried off high at the bat, having connected safely every time
up. H. L. Mitchell and C. H.
Muhleman were the captains of the opposing sides. After enjoying a fine lunch the party disbanded.

Plan Presented to End Coal Mine Strike

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The plan of the United States government for ending the nation-wide mine strike has been formally presented to the conference of coal operators and miners, it was announced today by Secretary of Labor Davis as the two groups again went into secret session in an attempt to break the deadlock over settling their differences.
Davis declined to make public the details of the government's peace plan but it was understood to provide for immediate arbitration.

He said he would again present
the plan to the operators and miners today, urging that it be adopted forthwith so that the miners could return to work within a few days.

Davis is understood to have presented the government's plan of settlement as soon as the conference reconvened. After a few minutes' general discussion the mining chiefs, headed by John L.
Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, withdrew and went into secret caucus to consider the Davis proposals.

CALL BANK STATEMENTS

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The controller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks as of close of business on Friday, June 30.

MAKING HAIR NETS LARGE BUSINESS FOR CHINESE

Fads of American Girls Are Living for Maidens of the Orient

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
For International News Service.
PACINGFU, China, July 3.
—Thousands of Chinese women and girls who live in constant fear of starvation through famine are able to buy their daily food by making the hair nets which gratify the whim and fancy of Mi-lady in America.

Golden, raven, henna hair nets are anything but luxuries or fads of butterfly flappers in China.
Over here they stand for food and even shelter, and if the pretty American society girl could see the little Chinese girls who are making the nets she is wearing her heart would reach out in sympathy to them.

According to statistics China exported hair nets amounting to ten million dollars last year.
These nets were made by thousands of women in their homes in the villages and cities, principally of northern China.

Hair is very cheap in China.
One dollar will buy enough hair nets for a month. At Peking, a village fifty miles south of Pa-cingfu, hair is one of the features of market day, which is held in the city temple every five days.

Bought by Barbers Barbers—who add a nice bit to their incomes by saving all comb-ings of customers—sell the raw hair. In and out the great throng of people from all the country round who flock to the fair, wind their way calling, "Strong,
long hair—sold cheap today."

Perhaps a representative of a hair net company will buy all they offer. This hair is distributed to the women who are working under contract for him. Often one man will have a territory covering several villages.
The hair nets are not made in the factories, but in the home, although the repairing and going over of the nets before shipping is usually done in factories.

Chinese girls, wearing faded blue cotton short coats and trousers, are seen sitting on the doorsteps working away making nets.
In tiny dark rooms where the family eats, sleeps and worships wrinkled, bent grandmothers with bound feet are occupied making nets. In the sunny courtyard of a large Chinese home occupied by many families the women making nets sit around tables rapidly tying the knots, while babies clutch at their trousers—or sit in their laps.

Saved From Starving
The women receive 2 cents a net and are able to make about ten nets a day if the worker is fast.

A few years ago China sent all her hair to America or Europe to be bleached or dyed, but many hair net companies have opened their own bleaching and dyeing works, with very satisfactory results.

During the famine last year
thousands of women and girls were kept from starving to death or being sold into slavery by making hair nets. The Red Cross representatives, missionaries and other famine relief workers opened many hair net making centers as famine relief measures.

Eleven Dead Result Of Railway Wreck

WILSON JUNCTION, N. J., July 3.—Eleven persons were killed and 72 injured when the Midnight
Flyer on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad left the rails, through the mistake of a signalman, and plunged down a thirty-foot embankment near here early today, according to a complete casualty list issued by the state police at 10:30 o'clock.

These figures were issued by Lieut. John D. Stieker, who said that the state police were convinced that all of the bodies had been removed from the wreckage.
It was established that 17 of the injured were women.

Contrary to first reports, none of the ten children on the train were badly hurt although shaken up and scratched.

One of the dead men was a negro porter employed in one of the two Pullman cars on the train.
He held his watch in his hand.
It had stopped at 12:24 o'clock.

FARRELLS GO TO BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Neill Farrell of 1831 South Gardena ave-beach.

READY FOR FOURTH BOUT
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., July 3.
—Fight fans began to swarm into this town today for tomorrow's lightweight championship fight between Benny Leonard, titleholder, and Rocky Kansas, the swarthy Buffalo boxer. Selection of a referee, which is scheduled for today, remained the single detail of the bout to be arranged.

It is estimated that the variance of one inch in the rainfall in July in the six chief corn-growing states makes a difference of $300,000,000 in the value of the corn crop.

In the Far East the dog still is held in abhorrence as a scavenger of the streets, and the appellation
"dirty dog" is the superlative of disdain.

David Lawrence, hero of a popular old English tale, had a dog which was so lazy that it leaned its head against a wall when it barked.

DE VALERA BESIEGED

DUBLIN, July 3.—A hot attack was begun at 9:40 o'clock by Irish Free State troops against a group of hotels in Sackville street, headquarters of Eamon de Valera, commander-in-chief of the republican forces. The insurgents now hold only a small group of buildings in Sackville and upper O'Connell streets having been driven from the rest of their positions.

That they would be worn one day by a king's daughter is a tradition attached to the Clanciarro diamonds which Viscount Lascelles presented to Princess Mary on their wedding day.

Sometimes being misunderstood is to be preferred.

Adams streets, Los Angeles, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Morton, Jr., and family and O. W. Schmick arrived in Glendale last week and are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Morton, Sr., of 114
West Milford street. The trip to California was made by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wellman of San Francisco, accompanied by their three children, Clarabelle, Reginald and Winifred, spent the past week-end in this city visiting with friends and relatives. The Wellmans are enjoying a two weeks' vacation in Los Angeles and other southern California cities.

Miss Pauline Hooker, who spent last summer with friends in Glendale, recently returned to this city and is visiting at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Homer B. Miller of 434
West Burchett street. Miss Hooker recently completed her first year's study at the University of California, Southern Branch,
where she expects to return next fall.

Mrs. Jack Lundregan of 308
East Maple avenue is enjoying a visit from her aunt, Mrs. Simon Spillacy and daughters, Wilhelmina and Hortense of Lima, Ohio.
She arrived last night via the Southern Pacific from Bakers-field, where they have been spending some time with relatives. They will also visit relatives in Los Angeles and expect to leave on their journey homeward the last of this week.

Miss Katherine Taylor of 715
South Glendale avenue and her two nieces, Irene and Georgia Anderson of 1125 East California avenue, returned Friday from Laguna Beach where they spent the last two weeks. Miss Taylor and her sister, Miss Cynbel Taylor, joined a hiking party Saturday that left Sierra Madre for Muir Lodge, in Santa Anita Canyon, of which they are members. They remained over the week-end.

Glendale Personals

Mrs. C. A. Chambers, who has been at the home of her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Moniot, 416
San Fernando court, convalescing from a recent operation, returned Sunday to her home in Burbank.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin, who for the past several months have been residing in La Crescenta, are moving today to the Jesse Joseph home at 317 West Lexington drive, which they recently purchased.

F. E. Quick of East Wilson avenue left Saturday afternoon for Big Bear lake, where he expects to spend the remainder of the summer months with friends. He will probably return to this city some time during September.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Koverman of 915 East Lomita avenue, returned to Long Beach on Sunday, where they were the guests of a party of friends. On their return from the beach city the party enjoyed a visit at the Signal Hill oil fields.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kresling and small daughter, Hope, of 625 East Elk avenue, are planning on spending the most part of the month of July as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Elerath at their large fruit ranch north of San Fernando.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Knowlton and family, who recently arrived in southern California from their former home in Kansas City, Mo., are planning on locating in this city in the near future, as the result of their visit here last Friday.
At present the Knowltons are the guests of Los Angeles friends.

J. C. Nichols of Los Angeles was in Glendale last week visiting with former neighbors and friends. Mr. Nichols, who lived with his parents on East Lomita avenue, this city, several years ago, is well acquainted here, having been a member of the class of 1916 of the local high school.

Mrs. A. F. Campbell of Redondo Beach recently spent several days visiting in this city, where she was the guest of her niece, Mrs. Hattie E. Gaylor of 1218 Stanley avenue. Mrs. Campbell, who is nearly eighty-five years old, is known to a number of Glendale residents, she having lived here several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin of 246 North Central avenue entertained as their guests at dinner yesterday Mr. and Mrs. C. C.
Chapman and son Irvin of Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin and daughter Josephine and son, John Blake of La Crescenta.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Franklin of San Gabriel, Booth W. Franklin and Mrs. Mabel Franklin of Oakland, Glendale. The dinner party was in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Chapman, J. H. Franklin and John Blake Franklin.

Deaths and Funerals

THOMAS PRINCE
Thomas Prince passed away at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs.
Mary S. Prince, 410 West Vine street, yesterday, Sunday, July 2, 1922, at the age of 75 years. He had been a resident of Glendale for three years, having come here from San Francisco, where he lost his health during the earthquake and fire in that city.

Funeral services will be held at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. The body will be taken later to West Rock-berry, Mass., for interment. Rev.
C. M. Crist will officiate at the services.

JEAN TITTEMON
Funeral services for Jean Titten-mon, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Tittemon of 308 North Isabel street, who passed away on Sunday, July 2, 1922, were held this morning at the Jewel City Undertaking company's parlors, Interment at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

GEORGE F. WALLIS
George F. Wallis passed away at his home, 333 West Elk avenue, July 2, 1922, at the age of 74 years. He leaves a widow, Joselin M. Wallis. Mr. Wallis has been a resident of Glendale for about a year. Funeral services will be held at the parlors of the Jewel City Undertaking company
Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment at Forest Lawn.

Rev. Cole's Family Heads Picnic Party

A party enjoying a picnic outing tomorrow in Santa Monica canyon will include Rev. and Mrs.
C. A. Cole and family, Miss Lulu Garton, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Cole and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Cole and family, Rev. and Mrs.
W. T. McClellan of Wichita, Kan., Mrs. Maurine and daughter, Miss Alice Maurer.

AT RESEARCH HOSPITAL

Eleanor Lyons, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Lyons of 510 East Lexington drive, has been taken to her home from the Glendale Research Hospital. She received a broken leg on June 17
when she was run over by an automobile backing to the curb.

HOTEL BANDITS GET $400
LOS ANGELES, July 2.—
Closely watching the night clerk of the Huntington Hotel on South Main street until he opened the safe and started to check over the night's receipts, shortly after dawn today, two armed and masked bandits held him up and later escaped with $400.

Of the 3000 passenger automobiles registered in Hungary, only 1500 are in running order.

POSTOFFICE GETS

IN NEW QARTERS

60-Piece Band From L. A.

Aids Parade of 50 Autos

Headed by Postmaster

Accompanied by the music of a sixty-piece band, the Glendale postoffice was officially moved Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from 124 North Brand to the new building at 213 West Broadway.

Fifty automobiles decorated with American flags and mail bags, led by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson, left the corner of Brand and Lexington drive, parading to Colorado boulevard, back to Broadway and east to Glendale avenue after serenading the city hall, the machines drove west to the new office where the band, in a large sightseeing bus, gave an open-air concert.

Postmaster Jackson addressed the band, which came from the Los Angeles postoffice, although four or five of its members are in the Glendale office. Mr. Jackson congratulated the Los Angeles office on organizing a band, following the example of the Glendale office which has had an orchestra for some time.

Postmaster Sings
"If Los Angeles keeps on growing as she now is," stated Mr.
Jackson, "pretty soon you may be wanting to be annexed to Glendale, and then we'll have you all out here."

After his short address, the "singing postmaster," by popular request, sang "Mother Machree," which was received with appreciative applause.

The actual moving was done
"without a hitch." Every employee had already been assigned his particular duty, and the floor plan in the new office mapped to show the position of each piece of furniture and equipment. The moving was started at 8 a. m., and shortly after 12 the old office was cleared and every fixture was in the new building, being installed.
The postal employees worked Sunday preparing to open this morning, and the office was in readiness to handle mail without delay at opening time today.

Upon his arrival at the office
this morning, Postmaster Jackson was pleasantly surprised to find his desk decorated with a huge bowl of carnations, presented by "The Five Girls," the feminine personnel of the office. The desks of Assistant Postmaster George Hallett, Secretary H. B. Ellis, and Claim Agent Norman Ashcroft were also decorated with blossoms.

Although no delay was occasioned in the handling of mail
here as a result of the moving, Postmaster Jackson asks the indulgence of the public in case
there should be some delay.

"We are working under some handicap," he stated, "Electrici-tians, painters and cabinet makers are still at work putting on the finishing touches, and it may be some time before we are thoroughly settled. The office will be closed tomorrow, the Fourth, but as the public is concerned, we will be here at work getting everything straightened out."
I want to have an "open house" when everyone in Glendale can inspect the new postoffice.

Mrs. L. Baker Here From Quaker's City

Mrs. Lucille Baker of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is spending several weeks visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Manson of 1010 North Pacific avenue. Mrs.
Baker, who was formerly known as Miss Lucille Manning, is a cousin of Mr. Manson. On Saturday night Mrs. Baker was the guest of honor at an especially arranged party and entertainment held by friends at Ocean Park.

Californian's Slaying Is Chicago Mystery

CHICAGO, July 3.—The mysterious slaying of Thomas Petros, the wealthy wine broker of Sacramento, Calif., was still unsolved today. Vincent Curtazio is being held in connection with the murder and two others are being sought. Police have learned that Petros came here to discuss a $200,000 wine contract with Curtazio. Yesterday he went to Cur-tazio's saloon and as he alighted from a taxi he was shot by Curtazio. A stray bullet wounded Curtazio slightly.

WAR UPON OPIUM
BEING DIRECTED BY CHINESE

Eradication of Dens Is Sought by Opponents of Poppy Lure

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
For International News Service.
SHANGHAI, July 3.—With reports of the International Anti-Opium Association declaring that the opium poppy is being grown extensively in certain provinces of China and that much of the surplus from famine is caused by the planting of the poppy instead of wheat, a nation-wide campaign against opium now is under way.

An investigation of opium smoking here reveals the facts that opium dens of this city
—world famous a few years ago—have disappeared; that the wealthy Chinese are smoking the "pipe" in beautifully fitted rooms in their own homes; that the poorer classes seek out badly kept dens, carefully hidden, and that the police class has resorted to opium tea.

Up until 1917, when the dens were closed by law, the opium palaces were the most popular gathering places of the Chinese.
There were two famous opium palaces in Shanghai—the Nan-chen Sing and the Peh Chin Sing.
With some 24 other dens, they were licensed and under police protection. Today these famous dens have been transformed into Chinese theatres and tea houses, and the American tourist in Shanghai in search of a thrill will find visiting an opium den practically impossible.

SIR CONAN DOYLE

THEORY REFUTED BY SCHOLAR

Spiritism Only Revamped Necromancy, Claim of Dr Paul Johnson

By ARTHUR BROWNLEE

For International News Service. PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's lectures in the Academy of Music here on spiritualism are receiving pointed criticisms from prominent Philadelphians. Among others, an answer to his claims has come from Prof. Paul L. S. Johnson, one of the best known Biblical scholars in America.

He claims that "Spiritism is revamped ancient necromancy—current among all ancient heathen nations as a part of their religion"—and that "the spirit medium is the modern counterpart of the ancient heathen spirit-familiar and necromancer and of the less ancient Indian medicine man."

Johnson declares that his understanding of Spiritism is not only the teaching of the Bible on the subject, but it also corroborated by multitudes of reformed spiritists, whose experiences with the spirits give "incontrovertible evidence that they are the devil's underlings—the fallen angels—palming themselves off as the dead."

"I agree with Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's intimation to the effect that he has not a soft head," declared Dr. Johnson. "On the contrary, he has an unusually full and level head and, better still, a good kind heart. It strikes me that he has only one empty lobe in his brains. This vacuum in the head is the absence of correct knowledge on the nature of the spirits with whom he communicates in spiritistic seances. This lack of knowledge on the subject combined with his brilliant mind and kind heart, makes him an advocate of Spiritism."

Fails as Detective
"Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the author of the best detective stories in existence, has failed completely as a detective; for persons that he is investigating have completely deceived him and thrown him off the track, as to their identity, plans and works, if the Bible is true in its teachings upon the subject and if the testimony of multitudes of un deceived former spiritists is to be accepted. "Replying to the question, 'How has Conan Doyle been deceived as to the identity, plans and works of the spirits that he has been investigating?' I would say, according to the Bible—corroborated by the experience of multitudes of reformed spiritists—the spirits that appear in seances are not at all dead human beings, but fallen angels—devils or demons—who impersonate the dead. This is my best reply to his request for an answer, as his claimed due, to his quietly and to the public, of his communicating spirits, the familiar spirits of the Bible."

"These demons are wonderfully intelligent, knowing all of us intimately, even in the minutest particulars that most of us think are completely secret from everybody except our loved dead and ourselves. They are also deeply deceitful, being the lying spirits of the scriptures. They use their knowledge and cunning to palm themselves off as dead friends and relatives."

"Impersonate Our Friends"
"All of us know that when death severs us from loved ones there is left an aching void in our hearts, which yearn for the return of fellowship with the departed. The fallen angels, taking advantage of this longing, through Spiritism impersonate our friends and relatives the more thoroughly to gain influence over us to their advantage and our harm. The great success that they have achieved in this matter attests their wonderful knowledge of our lives and their almost unbelievable deceptiveness."

"The activity of fallen angels—"

L. A. HERALD WINS BALL GAME IN FIFTEENTH

Long Winded Session Ends 6 to 4; Local Nine Meets Sunland Tomorrow

With three men borrowed from the local team, the Los Angeles Herald Greens defeated the Glendale Merchants, 6 to 4, on the local diamond yesterday afternoon, in a game which lasted fifteen innings.

Chuck Flanders, who is regularly with the Glendale team, played a large slice of the game for the visitors. Flanders, Bert Wales and Johnny Collage were loaned to the Herald Greens. Wales and Collage each brought in one run, and Flanders raced through with two, thus making four of the six Herald runs.

After a strenuous battle lasting from the second to the eighth inning, the Merchants overcame a three-point lead and tied the score 4 to 4. The next six innings were scoreless, Agasson pitching a wonderful game until the fifteenth, when a misjudged fly and an error led in the two winning runs for the Greens.

Bell Stars for Locals
Bell, of the Merchants, starred with a home run in the second inning, and the entire team played fast and close. They out hit the Greens, but did not bunt the hits, and, although they had men on bases in each of the last four innings, they were unable to connect at the crucial moment.

Johnson opened the game on the mound, with King catching. After the second inning Agasson took the pitcher's box and played a winning game until the fatal inning.

Game Tomorrow
Tomorrow, the Fourth, the Glendale Merchants visit Sunland, where they are to play the Tujunga Valley Ball club. A good game is promised by the Merchants' manager, J. A. Cobb. The game is to be part of a Fourth of July celebration to be held at Sunland and "big doins" are expected in the valley town tomorrow.

The Merchants are to leave Glendale at 9:30 in the morning, the game being set for 12 noon. Fielder will pitch for the locals, with King behind home plate, and Bell, lately from the Redondo club, having decided to come into the local organization permanently, will be at first base.

Joe Monett Challenges Young Hackenschmidt
At last Glendale draws a rise! Joe "Toots" Monett, of Greeley, Colo., has written The News to issue a challenge to Young Hackenschmidt, local wrestler, for a finish match. "Toots" is visiting in Los Angeles, he says, after finishing a two months' engagement in San Francisco, "and would like to meet this man" before he leaves for New York.

Monett weighs 195 pounds and has been beaten but twice in a series of ten matches on the coast, he states.

Tagging All Bases

With home runs to the left of them and home runs to the right of them, the Yanks and Athletics made a one-day appearance at the Polo Grounds to the ultimate embarrassment of the visitors, 9 to 2. Babe Ruth smacked his twelfth of the season and his fourth in two days into the lower stands in the right field and Tillie Walker replied with two into the left field bleachers in his first two appearances. This brought Tillie's total up to 17.

The Cards gained a full game while the Giants enjoyed a siesta, winning both games of a double-barreled engagement with the Reds, 8 to 3 and 2 to 1.

There must be a break in everything and the before the White Sox winning streak of eight straight was finally broken by the Tigers who pummeled Robertson and Hodges for a 12 to 6 victory.

Ken Williams continued to step along at the head of the parade by socking his twentieth homer of the season with Sisler and Manus aboard.

12 DAYS MORE

And the Opportunity to Place a Bet on Julian at Santa Fe Springs Will Have Passed You By

Two weeks ago today, folks, I introduced myself to you, for the first time in my career, and, after working fifteen years in the oil fields, at covering pipe lines with a pick and shovel, to Superintendent of several substantial corporations, I called on you to support me in drilling a well, on what is to me the surest and greatest piece of proven oil land in the world.

I do not ask you to come in and bet your money where I have not already bet mine.

I do not ask you to come in and buy stock in a Company where there is a Board of Directors at fat salaries to juggle your profits as they see fit.

I do not ask you to come in and buy units in a well that is capitalized at two million dollars or to drill one on a town lot, but I do ask you to step up and support me at the actual cost of drilling a well on 4 acres in the very heart of the biggest production at Santa Fe Springs, where I am surrounded on four sides by the Standard Oil Company, the Dutch Shell, the General Petroleum Corporation and the Petroleum Midway, and practically offsetting the big Agee well of the General Petroleum Corporation which blew in three weeks ago yesterday flowing 4000 barrels a day.

For this piece of acreage I paid $30,000.00 cash to the Globe Petroleum Corporation ten days before the big Agee gusher of the General Petroleum Corporation came in. I have since refused $100,000.00 for my lease. And this is where I am offering you the opportunity of participating with me at the actual cost of drilling.

Folks, when I bought this tract it took every red cent I could scrape together. My lease called for drilling operations within ten days. I could not waste a moment, so I sat down and doped out an offer to you to participate with me based on the actual cost of completing a well to that 4000 barrel pay, and in return for the royal support you are giving me.

What Am I Giving You?

I have divided 70% of my total net production from this well into 1750 equal parts and for every $100.00 you shoot with me I issue to you an assignment, legally executed and recorded, of one-1750th part of this production, with this assignment placed in trust with one of the leading Banks of Los Angeles for a period of 25 years, and this Bank will collect, direct from the pipeline company, the proceeds from the sale of your oil and same will be disbursed to you pro rata every thirty days.

Your protection, I have made absolutely air tight. When I drill in this well, flowing three, four or five thousand barrels, you can sit down every night and figure to a penny your share.

The terms of my lease will only permit of my drilling three wells on this whole tract. When you participate with me on my first well, I issue to you an agreement, giving you the privilege of participating for the same amount in my second and third wells as they are drilled at exactly the same rate you come in on the first one.

I come out and ask you, "Mr. Thoroughbred," to join me, because I have no bunch of big millionaires standing behind me. I ask you to accept me on my face value, and in return for that royal confidence and support from you, I have pledged my word of honor that I will give you the cleanest, squarest and fastest run for your money you ever have had or ever will have, and I conscientiously believe that every dollar you throw to me will bring you a return of 100% a month for a long, long time.

My fifteen picked drillers are on their toes rigging up this very minute and it will only be a few days until I start in the fastest race that ever was run to that "gusher pay."

Don't wait until tomorrow, you might be too late. Mail your check to me today or come in and meet me personally.

The unanimous decision reached was that it could not be done. Architects appear John C. Austin and Frederick M. Ashby of Los Angeles, who are associated with George M. Lindsey of 710 East Broadway, as architects for the new high school plant, brought large rolls of preliminary plans with them and spent several hours explaining them to the members of the board. General approval was expressed in regard to the plans, but there was some doubt as to underwriting the cost.

The enrollment at the close of school this term was almost 1400. This was a 40 per cent increase over the enrollment at the close of school last year. At the same rate of increase next term school will close with an enrollment of 1900. The new school plant cannot be occupied until September next year. At the same rate of increase, that school year would close with an attendance of 2750 pupils—all clamoring for education.

Must Plan for 3000
Planning on a school of less than 2000 pupils, therefore, would be the utmost folly in the opinion of the high school board of trustees. Consequently, instructions were given that the school should be planned so that it might be expanded to accommodate this number of students.

Mr. Austin made it plain that some units of the school plant would have to be full size now in order to permit of the expansion of the rest of the plant later. He mentioned the fact that classrooms might be added as needed, but that the auditorium once built could not be enlarged.

An adequate auditorium for a school of 3000 pupils will cost $150,000. It created at the same time as the rest of the school plant and $200,000 if constructed at some subsequent time. H. W. Yarik of 347 West Wilson avenue expressed an opinion that the auditorium was not so necessary as certain other units of the plant. Principal George U. Moyses seemed to believe that the auditorium was one of the most necessary units. All agreed that the saving of $50,000 in having the auditorium constructed with the rest of the plant was worth considering.

Discuss Other Costs
The cost of gymnasiums also came up for considerable discussion. Mr. Austin stated that a gymnasium of very cheap construction could be put up for $45,000. The board stated that separate gymnasium buildings for boys and girls would be absolutely necessary. Mr. Austin estimated that the cost of adequate buildings would amount to $150,000. A proposal to leave these un-built for the present met a stum-bling block when Mr. Moyses remarked: "The state law says that unless young people are physically disqualified, they must take physical training at least two hours a week."

The estimated cost of the main building exclusive of the auditorium is $442,000. The science building is to cost $89,000. Paraphernalia are estimated at $50,000. Bleachers, the athletic field, and tennis courts will cost another $15,000. With the auditorium the total cost is estimated at $937,000. This is $337,000 more than the bond issue for $600,000. Without the auditorium, the cost is estimated at $787,000 or $187,000 more than the amount of money available.

"We must not forget that we have a plant here that will accommodate a thousand students," declared Mr. Yarik.

Sale Is Suggested
This brought up the question as to what should be done with the present high school property. The board concluded that this question must be decided before negotiations in regard to the new plant could be carried further. A suggestion to transform the present plant into a junior high school did not meet with much favor on account of the additional expense of administration for two separate high school plants.

Use of the high school plant for a civic center also was suggested, but was not discussed. A suggestion to have the grammar school board might take over the plant and operate it as an intermediate school met with favor.

After more discussion, the board came to the conclusion that the property is worth between $400,000 and $450,000. Mr. Austin said that he had never been through the entire plant and that any statement on his part would be "the wildest guess." However, he asserted his opinion that a minimum cost of duplicating the buildings would be $150,000.

Gives Comparative Figures
The Los Angeles high school which is one of the model educational plants of southern California, was destroyed by Mr. Austin for 2000 pupils. It cost $750,000 before the rise in prices. Mr. Ashby stated that it could not be duplicated today for $1,500,000. It has no gymnasiums and no shop buildings. With its 3000 students enrolled at present it is now badly cramped.

"We have based our estimate of costs on similar school buildings which have been erected by us," declared Mr. Ashby. "We are not guessing at the cost, we are using actual figures as a basis."

HARMONIOUS LIFE URGED BY PASTOR

Christ Is Center for All of Believer's Earthly Being Says Rev. Edmonds

At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, preached on "The Christ Life."

Rev. Edmonds said, "It is possible these days to live a life that is pleasant to God? It is a fight with antagonists on every hand from start to finish. Perhaps the secret lies in this, 'That all things Christ might have the pre-eminence.' Something, some one, has to occupy the top place."

"It is possible for me to stand with Him; I can recognize His omnipotent creative skill; why shall He not make and direct the shape of my life? God's plan for every believer is a harmonious life, and it will be so with you in so far as He is preeminent in your life. What He asks us to do is always the best thing for us. Men bring discord into their life when they put His law under foot."

"Christ is the center of all the believer's life, a force in us, a force flowing from us. Look at this Christ center from three viewpoints: mentality, morality and ministry."

"It is Christ you have to recognize at the top and from Him you have to learn. In all our jurisprudence we have to insist that He is head. In medical science there is wonderful attainment of knowledge, yet above the whole of it is God who made the body and knows it and knows how to heal with it."

"Jesus Christ is the infallible moral standard of perfect manhood, the summit. Come out and look up there; move up on to the heights with Him and stay there. 'He was preeminent in His ministry. Wonderful, the things He did. But the cross and the resurrection and the ascension and the coming, these are all as equal spokes in the wheel, and all alike fundamental!'"

American Navy Is Seeking Development; Large Sum For Air Craft

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The new American navy, as provided by the Washington naval disarmament treaty, will be thoroughly equipped with modern implements of naval warfare under the naval bill as passed by Congress. With eighteen capital ships, including the newest dreadnoughts, as the first line of defense, the navy will be armed with the greatest air fleet in its history. An appropriation of $14,700,000 has been set aside for the purchase of new airplanes and for the development of the naval air service.

While obtaining new "dreadnoughts" of the air the navy will also experiment in the development of the latest aerial defensive and attacking weapons. A large sum has been set aside for research work to be used in an effort to perfect a new type of barrel engine which would enable heavy aircraft to increase their speed from 20 to 30 per cent. New depth bombs, to be used against enemy submarines, are being developed in naval laboratories, while the use of high explosive bombs on battleships will be perfected for use against an invading fleet.

Tests Are Satisfactory
The recent tests off the Virginia coast demonstrated the value of defensive air fleets for use as a coast guard, and the navy will not be slow to perfect this comparatively new weapon of defense.

Ten of the fastest cruisers in the world are now in process of construction. Several will be finished this coming year, and they will be added to eighteen capital ships in the first line of defense. Five second line cruisers and use and will be retained under terms of the Washington treaty.

The destroyers, which did such valiant work during the World War in protecting merchant shipping, the movement of supplies across the ocean and the rendering of aid to the great German submarine fleets, will be retained. More than a hundred of these "wasps of the sea" will be kept in use. Ten gunboats, principally for use in nearby waters, and a number of auxiliary ships, complete the American fleet.

Tables Are Turned
Among the latter will be six light mine-layers—a vessel developed to an important position in naval warfare during the world struggle. German mine-layers, dotting the North Sea and the English Channel with innumerable mines, wrought havoc for a time to English and Allied shipping. Later the tables were turned on the Germans when mine-layers dotted the seas and the channels to German naval bases with deadly mines to protect the free passage of submarines. The effective work was clearly demonstrated, and the six mine-layers will be retained by the navy to develop an efficient force for use in this modern branch of naval warfare in event America is forced into another combat.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH DELEGATION IS IMPRESSIVE

$65,000 Debt Wiped Out in Day Through Efforts of Rev. Cole and Workers

The state board of the Christian Church of California, introduced Rev. Snively. He commented upon the growth of Glendale, the congregation's foresight in planning an edifice large enough to take care of the future needs of the church, and congratulated the officers of the local church upon the evidence of their endeavor. He concluded his remarks with a gift of a thousand dollars to the building fund.

C. C. Chapman Speaks
C. C. Chapman of Fullerton spoke at the afternoon service. Mr. Chapman at one time resided in Glendale and has always taken a keen interest in the local church. His talk was occupied largely with reminiscences. He donated $500 to the building fund.

Rev. J. W. Uiter, who founded the local church in 1908, was present during the entire services and found pleasure in renewing his friendship with charter members. In his name a purse of $500 was collected by his friends and placed to the credit of the building fund. Rev. Uiter is now a resident of Pomona and a state evangelist.

Congratulations from the other Protestant churches of Glendale were extended by Rev. C. M. Calderwood, pastor of the Congregational church and president of the local ministerial association. He made a few brief remarks at the afternoon service.

Lunch Served 400
Lunch was served to about 400 in the banquet room in the basement of the church at noon. Mrs. R. P. Jodon of 133 South Kenwood street was in charge. She was assisted by fourteen women of the congregation in the preparation of the feast and by ten men in serving. The menu consisted of assorted sandwiches, baked beans, salad, coffee, tea, pie and fruit. Pains were taken to see that everyone had enough.

A solo was sung at the morning service by Mrs. Floyd Mercer of 315 North Jackson street. It was entitled "The King of Love, My Shepherd Is" and was composed by Gounod. Mrs. Calvin Whiting of 512 North Kenwood street is director of the choir. Mrs. M. G. Musser of 600 West Colorado street is its accompanist.

Other members of the choir are: Mrs. C. C. Stoler, 1540 Eighth street; Mrs. Eva Hutton, 326 East Colorado street; Mrs. R. P. Jodon; Miss Garnett Peters, 209 North Orange street; Miss Florence Stevens, 321 East Broadway; Miss Ruby Eubanks, Eagle Rock; Miss Eula Stevenson, 352 Pioneer Drive; Miss Evelyn Walker, 423 Pioneer Drive; W. A. Brooks, 1540 Eighth street; Harry Marple, 1523 Glenwood Road; F. P. Cole, 1540 Glenwood Road; Guy Mize and Gordon Mize, 412 East Harvard street.

Reporting of Services
The evening service was in charge of Rev. Cole. The sermon, however, was preached by Rev. John LeGrand, who will preach at the local church each night for two weeks at evangelistic services. His subject was "The Sinner and the Sinner." W. A. Howe, who accompanies him as a singing evangelist, sang a solo.

Presentation of the keys of the church was made by Floyd Mercer, chairman of the building committee, to William B. Kirk, treasurer of the church.

Keys under these circumstances are one of the highest honors of my life," declared Mr. Kirk. "For myself and fellow officers and the entire church I wish to thank you as chairman and the building committee for delivering to us this beautiful and splendidly-equipped house of worship and Christian activity at a time when we are in and possess it as our very own."

"We thank our architect, contractor, builders and supply men—everybody for rendering such splendid service and for uniform honesty and courtesy."

"We are grateful to all who have given and had, enabling us to dedicate this house tonight with every dollar of its indebtedness paid or pledged in good faith."

"We trust that this house shall always stand as a monument to this generation's faith in the Fatherhood of God, the divinity of Christ, the inspiration of the Bible and the immortality of the soul. It is our desire that here the poor, the sick and the stranger may find equal and cordial welcome; that within the doors unlooked by these keys the tempted shall find strength, the sorrowful shall be comforted; the penitent shall taste forgiving love; and the homesick shall learn the way hither and have visitors of the Father's house in the homeland of the soul. I express the hope that some time all assembled here tonight may meet again in that other building of God, that nobler temple, that 'House not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens.'"

STRIKERS BACK AT WORK
LOS ANGELES, July 3.—While local railroad shops hit by the walkout of approximately 7,000 shop crafts employes Saturday afternoon for a new finance minister, to have returned to work. Many of the strikers, it was believed, were awaiting the results of a mass meeting at the labor temple today, at which reports from Chicago regarding the union strike were received, before deciding what course to follow.

'FEAST' OF WATER FROM LIFE GIVEN

Rev. Harley S. Preston Talks to Those Who Are Athirst for Spiritual Succor

Report made Sunday morning at the Pacific Avenue Community Methodist church on the progress of the campaign for church funds, showed that $337 has been raised in two and a half months' subscriptions. In making this announcement the pastor, Rev. Harley S. Preston stated that the campaign will continue this week, when he is confident that the remaining $343 will be secured.

Harold Adams of 153 South Pacific avenue, as church treasurer, is in charge of the campaign. He has announced that the pledges made can be arranged so that final installments may be paid on or before September 17, 1922.

Rev. Preston took for his text Sunday morning, "Let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely." Rev. 22:17. He said in part:

"And this is the feast: 'The water of life,' and these are the guests to be invited to the feast: 'He that is athirst; whosoever will.' And these are the King's messengers to give invitations to the feast: 'The spirit and the bride say, 'Come, and he that heareth let him say, Come.' And this is the condition of entrance to the feast: 'freely.' Whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely."

"When we are roaming through the Bible we never get far away from the sound of waters. We have not gone far before we discover a fountain of water in the desert. There are wells on every land and water gushes out of rocks of flint."

"He that is athirst! there is need that we only open our eyes 'in order to see signs of human thirst; on every hand there is plenty of evidence of our unsatisfied cravings. Look around you, better still look within you; everywhere there are tokens of the absence of holy and radiant contentment."

"Multitudes of people are very weary and life is to them very flat, stale and profitless. 'If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink.' If God were to give me now the choice as to what every member of my congregation should receive before we leave the church, what would I choose? I think I would choose three things. First of all, pardon; second, purity; third, peace."

"Every true believer is a propagandist, every true disciple is an apostle. Every one who has truly heard will surely speak. The person who has been at the feast will tell what was on the table, 'Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good. He that is athirst, let him come.' You have tried other things, now try Christ, then you can sing, 'Yes, Jesus satisfies my soul. He's everything to me, for me He shed His precious blood and now He sets me free.'"

GERMAN CHIEFTAIN RECEIVES PRAISE FROM WRITER

Common Sense of Wirth Makes Him Ideal Leader, Says Biographer

BERLIN, July 3.—"Joseph Wirth became German chancellor because of his common sense and not on account of his political experience. We simply had to pick him out as the leader of the German nation, because he was the only politician who had reserved clear and cool head when all others had gone crazy in consequence of the war and the revolution."

This is the opinion of a well-known editor of the Berliner Tageblatt, Erich Dombrowski, and is offered in his biography of the chancellor.

"The secret of success in politics may well be described as 'to be ready is everything,' he writes."

In the eyes of the author Wirth supplies the best example for this theory. "For years and years Wirth lived the life of undisturbed meditation as a teacher of mathematics at the small Baden town of Freiburg," says the writer. "There, in peaceful company with his pupils, he was in search of the unknown quantity X, when, on the occasion of the Baden Diet elections, his friends picked him as a candidate. He emphatically refused the offer, saying that he 'did not know a bit about politics,' but not to say anything of the special interests of his voters, who were mostly farmers. But his friends destroyed all doubts by replying: 'So much the better. He was elected—the X was found!'"

"During the war the chancellor served in the army as a private in an ambulance corps and was shifted numerous times from one front to another. Hundreds of unknown wounded and sick were cared for by him."

"When Erzberger was de-throned the Centrists looked around for a new finance minister. Somebody suggested Wirth. He was found fast asleep in his small room in the Reichstag and was so amazed at the offer that he said over and over again: 'I don't know the first thing about the office.' But his friends once again overcame his resistance by saying: 'All the better.'"

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF CHIEF JACK, NOTED INDIAN

Seminole Leader, Whose Face Advertised State, Dead; White Is Held

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 3.—Jack Tigertail was a chief of the Seminole Indians. He was a big fellow, and white men who knew him said he was honorable "a gentleman." He lived with his wife and six children in a palm-thatched home, and he never bothered anyone. He just lived an everyday sort of life, because that palm-thatched home was in the Tropical Gardens of Miami, Fla., and the Tropical Gardens are managed and regulated and kept exactly right for visitors.

Chief Jack's body was buried the other day in a white man's cemetery at Miami. His beloved rifle—which was more an ornament than anything else—was buried with his body also as a box which contained an old flashlight, buckles, knives, beads, small pieces of iron and other knick-knacks. Chief Jack had gone to abide with Ojus; his widow had gone into mourning, with the other members of the tribe in the Tropical Gardens. And about all that was left for the Seminoles to do was to keep their fires burning so the evil spirits would not molest them.

Mystery in Death.
There was mystery in the death of Chief Jack, who was slain by a single bullet. His tribesmen had been awakened in the night by a shot. The body was found about 100 yards away from the Indian's sleeping quarters. Hours passed before a way of investigation was opened by another Indian, who accused Charles Veber, an expert marksman and a former game warden. The faithful subject of Chief Jack whose information to the police led to Veber's arrest, was Charles Billy, who may become the chief of the Tropical Gardens settlement.

The Miami Herald describes Charles Billy's accusation of Veber: "Charles, have you ever seen this man before?" M. H. Rolfe, jailer, asked. "Yes, me see him at camp," the Indian replied. "This is the man who was in the boat and whom you saw load the gun?" "Yes, that's him."

"Is this the man you were drinking with and had the trouble with last night?" Mr. Rolfe continued. "Yes, it's him," Billy replied. "Is this the man you saw going across the river in the skiff?" "That's him," replied the Indian.

"Now, Charles," asked Mr. Rolfe, "was there one white man, two white men, or three white men there?" "There was only one," Billy replied. "Is this the one?" Rolfe asked, with emphasis. "Are you absolutely sure?" Billy straightened up and advanced toward Veber. He looked at the white man squarely in the face, his black eyes fairly snapping. "Yes, that's the man. Me sure, sure!"

Is Ordered Held.
A coroner's jury has ordered Veber held. Previously, Charles Billy had said: "White man, Charles come to land in skiff. He had whisky, and we all drink. White man tried to buy plums. Chief Tiger-tail he say 'White man too cheap.' White man grab gun. Charles Billy leave, and go behind bush and wait. White man open gun two time. 'Bang.' Chief him fall."

Tony Tommy, "chief justice" of all the Seminoles in Florida, approved of the white men's funeral services. There would have been tribal ceremonies if Chief Jack had not come to a violent end, so that evil spirits entered his body, and would have entered the body of any Indian who looked upon their former leader. So all of Chief Jack's subjects stayed away except Charles Billy, who returned to the "camp" to spread the simple news: "Him all right."

WARNS AMERICANS AGAINST FAKERS IN 'SOCIETY'

Travelers in France Are Fleeced by Numerous Alleged Noblemen

PARIS, July 3.—"Beware of dukes and vicomtes, not to mention duchesses and marquises."

It has been proposed to placard that warning in all hotels which Americans and other travelers frequent, especially hotels near the Opera, following the arrest of Jose Terol, alias Vicomte Romero, whose career in high society cost huge sums of money and no little humiliation.

The "vicomte" always registered at the best hotels. His charming personality and fascinating, although somewhat condescending manner won him innumerable friends, especially among American society women. Ambitious mothers cultivated him. Ambitious fathers were induced to invite him to dinner. He was understood to be eligible and an excellent match.

But he wore "sneakers." The "vicomte" was shy and went out very little. He preferred to give parties in the large, expensive dining rooms of the large, expensive hotels he chose as his residence. He invited to his parties all the admiring young women, chaperoned by the ambitious mothers and the no less ambitious fathers.

But someone mentioned the "sneakers" to the police. And thus their expose resulted.

White man sculled boat away. I go to Jack Tigertail. He says: 'Me going on long sleep. White man in boat here, he shoot me.' The white man buried the body of Chief Jack Tigertail. His passion marked the end of a highly unromantic existence he had led. His photograph had been used on sea resort advertising matter.

Tony Tommy, "chief justice" of all the Seminoles in Florida, approved of the white men's funeral services. There would have been tribal ceremonies if Chief Jack had not come to a violent end, so that evil spirits entered his body, and would have entered the body of any Indian who looked upon their former leader. So all of Chief Jack's subjects stayed away except Charles Billy, who returned to the "camp" to spread the simple news: "Him all right."
